

MACDONALD FOR DAWES PLAN IN FULL

RAILROADS TO GIVE LOW RATE TO FARM LABOR

Application Made to I. C. C. For Special Rate From Twin Cities and Sioux City

EFFECTIVE ON JULY 28

Same Rate as Last Year Granted to Aid in Providing Cheaper Harvest Help

St. Paul, July 16.—Application to publish rates on less than statutory notice, naming low one-way fares from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, Superior and Sioux City, Iowa, to the harvest fields of Minnesota and North Dakota have been made to the Interstate Commerce Commission, according to a joint announcement made today by the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Soo lines.

The effective date of the new rate, which will be $5.00 from the Twin Cities and the head of the lakes and $6.50 from Sioux City, depends on the answer from the commission. The Northern Pacific announced it expected the rate to be effective July 28.

URGES COOPERATION

Cooperation will be urged to the fullest extent throughout the state by Governor Nestos to provide ample harvest labor at reasonable expense to farmers. Granting of the rate of $5 from the Twin Cities and Duluth for groups of five, by railroads, and a rate of $6.50 by the Great Northern from Sioux City, will prove of great value to the farmers of the state if the expected big crop materializes, the Governor believes.

A better class of harvest laborers than usual may come into the state this year, in the opinion of many here, because many workers in the middle western states, temporarily out of jobs, will seek employment here. Gov. Nestos is planning to tie up the harvest labor movement with an immigration movement for the benefit of the state.

In letters sent to every county seat, the Governor said: "To make it of greatest value to the state, (the special railroad rate) there should be an organized and systematic campaign in every community to have the business men and farmers write to their friends in southern Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, etc., and secure their aid in directing first class workers into North Dakota either by automobile or by taking advantage of the low railroad fare."

"It seems to me that this would also be a golden opportunity to show the renters and farmers' sons from those states what variety of splendid crops we can raise on our low priced lands in North Dakota and by so doing make it a strong immigration movement also. We can easily prove that our farm land at present low prices is the best investment in the world. The chance to see the country, to examine our lands, and at the same time to earn good money, ought to appeal to these people."

HAGAN TO RUN FOR CONGRESS

Friends to Put His Name on Ballot, They Say

John N. Hagan, state supervisor of grains and grain grading and former Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor, will be placed in the race for Congressman from the Second district in the fall election, according to friends here. Hagan, who has been active in the Non-partisan League, will be run as an independent Republican candidate, according to several local politicians.

"There has been quite a lot of pressure brought to bear on me to be an independent Republican candidate," Mr. Hagan said. "I presume that I will be a candidate." He declined to make any formal statement at this time.

DISTRIBUTE MORE FUNDS

The second distribution of the 1924 license money of the motor vehicle registration department is now being made. Of the $208,992.76 to be distributed, $99,436.37 will go to counties, an equal amount to the State Highway Commission, $140,000 to the bridge fund of the highway body, according to John P. Tucker, registrar.

INJURIES FATAL TO FARMER

Hagen, N. D., July 16.—Injuries sustained when he was jolted from the spring seat of his wagon as the horses started suddenly and he fell beneath the wheels, sustaining two broken ribs and internal hurts, resulted in the death of Nathaniel Weiss, 45, farmer living near Krem, N. D. His widow and seven children survive.

GEN. DAWES CAMPAIGN HEADQUARTERS

CONTESTS ARE PLANNED HERE ON GIRLS DAY

Business and Professional Women's Club to be in Charge of the Events

PROGRAM IS GIVEN

Plans for Girls' Day July 26, are practically complete. Ladies of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs will have the general program for the entertainment of the girls from the country in charge. They are offering prizes of $2.00 each for the best bread, cake, butter and cottage cheese as well as prizes of $2.00 each for the best embroidery, crocheting, tatting, hemstitching, apron or simple house dress, made by any girl living in the country and between the ages of 12 and 17. They request that all exhibits be displayed at their club rooms at 4th and Rosser streets, across from Wells Seed Store, not later than two o'clock in the afternoon of the 26th. Also, no girl making an exhibit shall have received any help from her elders or any one else. Besides prizes for the above, there will be offered $3.00, $2.00 and $1.00 to the girl between the ages of 12 and 17 who is able to form the greatest number of words from the word "BISMARCK," such as "mark," "bar," "rib," etc. No letters in any word shall be used more often than they are in the word "BISMARCK" and the words formed must all be English as no foreign words will be counted. The lists of words must be mailed and addressed to the Association of Commerce, Bismarck, N. D., not later than July 21st, 1924.

Besides these prizes and contests the ladies have arranged for a special trip to the capital by automobile for the young ladies from the country, to visit the State Historical Society rooms and other points of interest there, this trip to be followed by an entertainment at the Club rooms consisting of vocal and instrumental selections and readings and refreshments as well as games and contests.

Pool To Be Open
Through the courtesy of the City Commission, the City Swimming Pool will be thrown open, free of charge to all boys and girls from the country for that afternoon. It is hoped that all those who come to town that day, who have them, will bring their own swimming suits. The city has possibly 75 or so on hand and they will be made to go as far as possible but they probably won't go all around unless the young folks will take their swims in relays, but everyone who goes to the pool will be fixed up in some way.

St. Mary's Band, an organization of 25 or more pieces, will give one of its splendid open air concerts at the corner of 4th and Main streets at 1:30 p. m. At 2:30 will commence the free movie shows at both theaters and the entertainment for the young ladies and their contests will start at the same hour at the Club rooms at 4th and Rosser streets.

At 4:30, beginning at the Post Office corner and on Broadway to 5th street, will be held an automobile test for all young women and girls from the country, to see how well they can drive. Posts at different distances apart and different angles will be set up in the street, the course will zig zag back and forth between the posts. The young ladies making the two blocks in the shortest time and knocking down the least number of posts will be adjudged the winner. There will be several prizes in this contest, $3.00, $2.00 and $1.00, besides 5 one pound boxes of candy to the next highest competitors. Any lady from the country can enter this contest though all the others are limited to (Continued on page 5)

FIRE LOSS IS $100,000

The state fire insurance fund will suffer a loss of approximately $100,000, if the adjustment shows the loss total, in the Valley City courthouse fire, according to Harold Hopton, manager. There was $50,000 insurance placed on the building and $40,000 on the contents. Of this amount $30,000 was carried as reinsurance in old line companies, placed through Valley City agents, according to Mr. Hopton. The net loss to the state, if complete, would be about $100,000, he said. Under the law the state fund cannot assume a single risk in excess of $100,000.

REPORT CAUSE OF DISASTER

Not All Precautions Taken, Naval Board Finds

Washington, July 16.—The turret explosion aboard the battleship Mississippi, off the California coast, June 12, in which 44 men and 3 officers were killed, resulted from insufficient air pressure used in cleaning the bore of the big gun, according to findings of the naval court of inquiry.

The fire in the upper handling room, the court said in its findings, announced today, was "caused by the safety doors not being entirely closed," and casualties were increased by the presence of unofficial observers "who crowded the passageways making exits more difficult."

The court made no recommendations, its report being confined solely to finding of facts. Secretary Wilbur and his technical staff have taken on the document under study to determine whether there should be further action in connection with failure to comply with regulations requiring that safety doors in turrets be closed during firing operations and also with regard to the presence of unauthorized persons in the turret.

MAY SUPPORT LAFOLLETTE

Washington, July 16.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, Democratic prosecutor of the Daugherty prosecuting committee, said today he probably would support Senator Robert M. La Follette in this year's campaign.

N. D. POLITICAL SITUATION IS LOST IN HAZE

"Practical Politics" Involving Deals of Various Sorts Now Uppermost

NATIONAL SITUATION

Many Willing to Make Bargains on State Politics as Affecting National

"Practical politics" likely will have an important bearing upon the course of the North Dakota state election in November. Already "practical politics"—a movement of words from the word "practical" upon some other objective—is being discussed to a great degree.

As matters now stand, the state Republican ticket is a mixture of Nonpartisans and Independents, with the former having the lion's share of the places but the latter faction having some important state officials. Usually when either the Independents or Leagueurs have lost candidates in the Republican column immediately there has been a movement to place opposition candidates in the field for the fall election. Just now, the political talk mainly is toward means to avert such an action.

The national situation has entered into the state fight to a large extent. A large number of political leaders view the carrying of the state for Coolidge as much more important than the state fight, and as such appear willing to let the present Republican state ticket "ride" if A. G. Surles, the League candidate, supports Coolidge for president. The latter, the titular head of the Republican ticket in the state, has made no declaration on this subject, and his friends do not expect him to do so. He is now at the Minnesota lakes.

On the other hand the Coolidge forces are confronted by the fact that four of the five presidential electors put on the Republican ticket in the March 18 primary ran as LaFollette supporters. Whether they would support Coolidge if he carried the state and they were elected presidential electors remains to be seen. There has been some talk, in view of the fact that six delegates to the Republican national convention voted against Coolidge although he carried the state, of trying to induce the so-called LaFollette electors to move into the LaFollette column, or to force them off by court action.

LaFollette will, of course, be on the ballot in the state, but in all probability in the column marked "individual nominations," where his name may easily be placed by petition. There has been a movement among some of the Nonpartisans for the resignation of all the League candidates chosen on the Republican ticket, and placing their names under the LaFollette banner. On the other hand, a group of Nonpartisans is willing, so they say, to let the present Republican ticket go through with the Independents included. By this method they would avoid a fight on Surles.

Some Independents favor the nomination of a candidate to holding that the recent primary election showed the League organization is in the minority in the state.

There is, of course, the Democratic party in the field, with Halvor Halvorsen of Minot named for Governor. Mr. Halvorsen has made no statement of his campaign, nor has the Democratic organization. It is expected he will make an active campaign for Governor. The Democrats, who had begun to see visions of carrying North Dakota, do not find their chances so rosy since the nomination of Davis. Many believed McAdoo would have carried the state, but did not hope for such success for John W. Davis.

WHEAT PIT IS EXCITED WHEN PRICES JUMP

September Deliveries Reach New High Level on Chicago Board of Trade

RISES AT THE CLOSE

Advances Two Cents a Bushel in Last 15 Minutes—Corn Also Takes Jump

NEW POST-WAR RECORD
Minneapolis, July 16.—Wheat jumped to new high levels in Minneapolis today, advancing two cents over Tuesday's prices and establishing a record for post-war years. July futures closed today at 1.32 3/4, September 1.32 1/2 and December 1.33.

Chicago, July 16.—Assertions that great stretches of the Canadian wheat crop are damaged 50 percent, beyond recovery, sent wheat sky-rocketing today. The market closed excited, and as much as 5 3/8c a bushel higher than yesterday, with September delivery at $1.20 7/8 to $1.27, a new high record for the season.

The sharpest advance in prices today took place during the last 15 minutes of trading and mounted to two cents a bushel in that brief period.

The late advance in wheat prices was further stimulated by dispatches from Winnipeg to one of the largest grain houses here declaring that $1.50 a bushel was in sight for wheat. The dispatch included information that thousands of acres in the Goose Lakes country were being plowed under and that in central and northern Saskatchewan 50 percent of the crop was beyond recovery even with the help of immediate rain.

One of the additional disquieting factors that developed was increasing complaint of extensive dry weather in the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Corn also made a sensational advance, 4 1/2c a bushel in some cases. Adverse crop reports from Indiana and Ohio received special attention and fresh top record prices were established for the new crop month, May delivery touching 91 1/4c.

FEDERAL FARM BANK RATE IS CUT ON LOANS

Intermediate Credit Bank Rate Reduced From 5 1/2 to 5 Per Cent. Announced

Washington, July 16.—The Federal Farm Loan Board today announced a reduction from 5 1/2 to 5 per cent in the rate of interest charged on direct loans to all cooperative marketing associations.

Board members declared the reduction would aid materially in the financing of this year's crop movement. The intermediate credit banks, which made the loans to the cooperative marketing association last year, loaned more than $58,000,000 and this was distributed among approximately 200,000 farmers.

The 5 1/2 per cent rate has been in effect since the credit banks were organized under the agricultural credit law passed early in 1923. Ability of the board to lower the rate was declared by Commissioner Cooper to mean that the system was established permanently as an institution for financing the farmers. It would mean, he said, considerable saving to the takers of loans from credit banks and at the same time permit the banks to operate at a small profit.

SHOOT'S FIANCE AS HE PLEADS

Washington, July 16.—Slowly dying from an incurable malady Jan Zoznowski, a well known Polish writer, repeatedly begged friends and attendants at a sanatorium to put an end to his sufferings. Today his fiancée, Stanislawna Ulecka visited him and was so overcome at the sight of his agony that she could not resist his pitiable pleadings. She shot him in the head and he is not expected to recover.

RAIN HALTS SOME FIRES

San Francisco, July 16.—Eastern Washington, northern Idaho and northern California today were continuing their battles against forest fires but rains in western Oregon and Washington had nearly ended the fire menace there.

AMERICAN AIRMEN ARE GREETED BY GREAT CROWD IN BRITISH AIRDROME

Croydon, England, July 16.—The American army airmen, on their world flight, landed here at 2:08 o'clock this afternoon.

The aviators made the distance between Le Bourget and Croydon, estimated at 225 miles in 3 hours and three minutes. The three machines taxied easily into the Croydon airdrome after an uneventful flight across the channel from Paris.

Lieut. Lowell H. Smith, the flight commander, was the first to land and one of the first to greet the airmen was Mrs. Stuart McLaren, wife of the British world flier, who asked word of her husband, now in the Far East.

"I am sorry we missed him, but glad we could help him," Lieut. Smith replied to Mrs. McLaren, referring to the new machine the American Expeditionary Forces were able to provide the British aviator in India last month.

Immediately following the flagship "Chicago," in which Lieut. Leslie Arnold accompanied Lieut. Smith, were Lieut. Eric Nilson and Lieut. Leigh Wade and Sgt. Ogden in the "Boston."

As the three planes swept up the field the crowd, which had gradually increased from a score or so to several hundred, burst into loud applause and hurried to clasp the hands of the airmen and have them write something in autograph albums, on the backs of envelopes or anything else handy.

"We are all well and feeling fine," Lieut. Smith said.

GRAND JURY TO MEET JULY 28

Bottineau, N. D., July 16.—The recessed Bottineau grand jury, which was to have been reconvened here yesterday before District Judge C. W. Buttz of the district court, will not assemble until Monday, July 28, on order of Judge Buttz, which was received here late Saturday.

The jury recently recessed after returning indictments against the entire board of Bottineau county commissioners, and the former county treasurer, alleging irregularities in connection with the deposit of county monies in a local bank which later closed and which, it is alleged, had not provided sufficient surety bonds to cover the deposits.

LAFOLLETTE ASKS FUNDS

Nation-Wide Campaign Is Proposed by His Aides

Washington, July 16.—Financial support for the LaFollette-for-president movement was sought from 30 or more national labor organizations in an appeal sent out by officials of the conference for progressive political action which endorsed the Wisconsin senator's independent candidacy at its Cleveland convention.

Each group was urged to make an immediate contribution, to be used in defraying preliminary campaign expenses, and to aid in the solicitation of funds from individuals in their organizations.

The appeal was made by William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, and Arthur E. Holder, chairman and secretary, respectively, of the conference. They said detailed plans for raising an adequate campaign fund, chiefly by small contributions from those in the working class, would be laid before the conference's national committee when it meets here Friday to select a vice-presidential candidate and perfect campaign plans.

ELEVATOR IS DESTROYED

Loss in Fire at Lehr Is Estimated at $9,000

(Special to the Tribune)
Lehr, N. D., July 16.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Lehr Grain Company's elevator here, with an estimated loss of $9,000. About 2,000 bushels of grain was destroyed. Insurance to the amount of $7,000 was carried.

A Soo line car caught fire but was extinguished before any damage was done. Forty ties on the siding and about 500 grain shocks, burned, and the depot platform was slightly burned along the edge. The fire originated about 2 a. m.

FORMER BISMARCK GIRL, AGED SIX, ASTOUNDS BY GENIUS AT PIANO

Before an audience of 600 adults in the old Orpheum in St. Paul, Jeannette Weinstein, 6 years old, last week played selections from Grieg, Schuman, Beethoven, Rameau and Kmetty, unswayed by the limelight, and unspoiled by the fact that she is being called a potential genius. Jeannette is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Weinstein, who formerly lived in Bismarck, until their removal to St. Paul.

At three Jeannette could hum the airs from phonographic records of the classics. It was then that her mother, who had relinquished in bitter disappointment her own dreams of becoming a great singer in the days when she lived in a barren little Russian village, planned to obtain for her children what she herself could not get, an opportunity to study music.

So Jeannette takes lessons and practices at a piano the pedals of which had to be raised to meet her short legs. Her teacher says she has absolute pitch, and she plays in the required tempo, with natural rhythm, and with more than a hint of tone now and then. She is all child, however, and does not like to practice very well. Large for her age, she is sturdy and healthy.

Jeannette's baby brother is quite a prodigy too. He is 18 months old, and his mother says she cannot keep him away from the piano. The talents of both children are natural gifts, whose worth others are estimating right now, with admiration for the present, and a vast hope for the future.

PREMIER SAYS ITS ADOPTION IS NECESSARY

Inter-Allied Conference Opens With British Premier Making Address

AMERICANS PRESENT

For Cooperation, But Have Not Same Status as Delegates, Says Kellogg

London, July 16 (By the A. P.)—The inter-allied conference for the purpose of making effective the Dawes plan for German reparations assembled at 11 o'clock today at the foreign office. American ambassador Kellogg and Col. James A. Logan Jr., the American observer with the reparations commission, were present with four advisers and a number of secretaries.

Formally welcoming the delegates to the conference, Prime Minister MacDonald made special reference to the presence of the Americans. He noted they were not present as full delegates but, he took their presence as indicating the good will and cooperation of the United States in the effort to make the Dawes plan effective.

American Kellogg, replying, said the American government and people believed the adoption of the Dawes report would be the first great step toward stabilization of Europe.

The American delegates, he said, were not attending the conference with the same status as the others at the conference table, as the United States was not a party to the treaty of Versailles. However, the ambassador, added the Americans were present in the same spirit of cooperation.

Opening the conference Premier MacDonald surveyed the reparations problem urging the importance of putting the Dawes report into effect as a whole, without change of details.

It would be the business of the conference, Mr. MacDonald said, to create conditions for the working of the Dawes report, the first being the fiscal and economic unity of Germany and the second, adequate security for prospective investors in the loan for Germany.

One great merit of the experts work, continued the Premier, was the business-like methods they adopted in preparing it, and he hoped the present conference would follow their example. He pointed out that the Dawes report was not a final solution of the reparations problem, but that it was necessary to get this scheme in operation before other problems could be solved. Therefore, it was his desire, that the conference deal solely with the Dawes report.

Premier Herriot of France, proposed Premier MacDonald as chairman of the conference, after which the business of organization was begun. Sir Maurice Hankney was named secretary-general and three committees were appointed to work out the agenda along the lines of the Herriot-MacDonald communique issued from Paris July 9. This business accomplished, the conference adjourned until tomorrow.

They are first, voting by the Reichstag in a form approved by the reparations commission of laws necessary to the working of the plans and promulgation of these laws.

Second, installation with a view to the normal working of all the executive and controlling bodies provided in the plan.

Third, definite constitution, in conformity with the provisions of the respective laws of the German banks and of the German railway companies.

Fourth, deposit with the trustee of certificates representing railway bonds and such similar certificates for industrial debentures, as may result from the report of the organization committee.

Fifth, conclusion of contracts assuring the subscription of a loan of 800,000,000 gold marks as soon as the plan has been brought into operation and all the conditions contained in the experts' report have been fulfilled.

The latest hair-pins have clips in the center.

START SEARCH FOR M'LAREN

Tokio, July 16.—A Stuart McLaren, British flier, flying around the world, is six hours over the Taramoushi island, Kuriles, where he was to have landed today and a Japanese destroyer has set out in search of his airplane, according to a report received here late today.

42 CROSSINGS ELIMINATED

Forty-two railroad crossings on state roads have been eliminated during the past year, either by underpass, realignment or relocation, according to A. D. McKinnon, project engineer of the States Highway Commission.

The forty-two crossings eliminated are for the most part on the heavily traveled state trunklines, said Mr. McKinnon, and are but a single step in the carrying out of the policy of the highway department to eliminate all railroad crossings on state roads.

The crossings that have been removed this year are those which were considered the most dangerous in the state. Mr. McKinnon said. The policy of the highway department calls for the further elimination of railroad crossings during the coming years.

Safety for motor vehicle drivers in the state has been materially increased, highway authorities agree, through the elimination of these forty-two most dangerous crossings.

FIRE LOSS IS $100,000

The state fire insurance fund will suffer a loss of approximately $100,000, if the adjustment shows the loss total, in the Valley City courthouse fire, according to Harold Hopton, manager. There was $300,000 insurance placed on the building and $40,000 on the contents. Of this amount $30,000 was carried as reinsurance in old line companies, according to Mr. Hopton. The net loss to the state, if complete, would be about $100,000, he said. Under the law the state fund cannot assume a single risk in excess of $100,000.

REPORT CAUSE OF DISASTER

Not All Precautions Taken, Naval Board Finds

Washington, July 16.—The turret explosion aboard the battleship Mississippi, off the California coast, June 12, in which 44 men and 3 officers were killed, resulted from insufficient air pressure used in cleaning the bore of the big gun, according to findings of the naval court of inquiry.

The fire in the upper handling room, the court said in its findings, announced today, was "caused by the safety doors not being entirely closed," and casualties were increased by the presence of unofficial observers "who crowded the passageways making exits more difficult."

The court made no recommendations, its report being confined solely to finding of facts. Secretary Wilbur and his technical staff have taken the document under study to determine whether there should be further action in connection with failure to comply with regulations requiring that safety doors in turrets be closed during firing operations and also with regard to the presence of unauthorized persons in the turret.

MAY SUPPORT LAFOLLETTE

Washington, July 16.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, Democratic proponent of the Daugherty prosecuting committee, said today he probably would support Senator Robert M. LaFollette in this year's campaign.

N. D. POLITICAL SITUATION IS LOST IN HAZE

"Practical Politics" Involving Deals of Various Sorts Now Uppermost

NATIONAL SITUATION

Many Willing to Make Bargains on State Politics as Affecting National

"Practical politics" likely will have an important bearing upon the course of the North Dakota state election in November. Already "practical politics"—a movement for one direction because of its effect upon some other objective—is being discussed to a great degree.

As matters now stand, the state Republican ticket is a mixture of Nonpartisans and Independents, with the former having the lion's share of the document under study to determine whether there should be further action in connection with failure to comply with regulations requiring that safety doors in turrets be closed during firing operations and also with regard to the presence of unauthorized persons in the turret.

The national situation has entered into the state fight to a large extent. A large number of political leaders view the carrying of the state for the Republican ticket in the March 18 primary as a LaFollette supporters. Whether they would support Coolidge if he carried the state and they were elected presidential electors remains to be seen. There has been some talk, in view of the fact that the LaFollette ticket in the primary is the March 18 primary as a LaFollette supporters. Whether they would support Coolidge if he carried the state and they were elected presidential electors remains to be seen.

On the other hand the Coolidge forces are confronted by the fact that four of the five presidential electors put on the Republican ticket in the March 18 primary ran as LaFollette supporters. Whether they would support Coolidge if he carried the state and they were elected presidential electors remains to be seen. WHEAT PIT IS EXCITED WHEN PRICES JUMP

September Deliveries Reach New High Level on Chicago Board of Trade

RISES AT THE CLOSE

Advances Two Cents a Bushel in Last 15 Minutes—Corn Also Takes Jump

NEW POST-WAR RECORD
Minneapolis, July 16.—Wheat jumped to new high levels in Minneapolis today, advancing two cents over Tuesday's prices and establishing a record for post-war years. July futures closed today at 1.32 1/2, September 1.32 1/2 and December 1.33.

Chicago, July 16.—Assertions that great stretches of the Canadian wheat crop are damaged 50 percent, beyond recovery, sent wheat sky-rocketing today. The market closed excited, and as much as 5 3/8c a bushel higher than yesterday, with September delivery at $1.26 7/8 to $1.27, a new high record for the season.

The sharpest advance in prices today took place during the last 15 minutes of trading and mounted to two cents a bushel in that brief period.

The late advance in wheat prices was further stimulated by dispatches from Winnipeg to one of the largest grain houses here declaring that $1.50 a bushel was in sight for wheat. The dispatch included information that thousands of acres in the Goose Lakes country were being plowed under and that in central and northern Saskatchewan 50 percent of the crop was beyond recovery even with the help of immediate rain.

One of the additional disquieting factors that developed was increasing complaint of extensive dry weather in the Dakotas and Minnesota. Corn also made a sensational advance, 4 1/2c a bushel in some cases. Adverse crop reports from Indiana and Ohio received special attention and from London prices were established for the new crop month, May delivery touching 91 1/4c.

FEDERAL FARM BANK RATE IS CUT ON LOANS

Intermediate Credit Bank Rate Reduced From 5 1/2 to 5 Per Cent, Announced

Washington, July 16.—The Federal Farm Loan Board today announced a reduction from 5 1/2 to 5 per cent in the rate of interest charged on direct loans to all cooperative marketing associations.

Board members declared the reduction would aid materially in the financing of this year's crop movement. The intermediate credit banks, which made the loans to the cooperative marketing association last year, loaned more than $58,000,000 and this was distributed among approximately 200,000 farmers.

The 5 1/2 per cent rate has been in effect since the credit bank was organized under the agricultural credit law passed early in 1923. Ability of the board to lower the rate was declared by Commissioner Cooper to mean that the system was established permanently as an institution for financing the farmers. It would mean, he said, considerable saving to the takers of loans from credit banks and at the same time permit the banks to operate at a small profit.

SHOOTS FIANCE AS HE PLEADS

Washington, July 16.—Slowly dying from an incurable malady Jan Zonowski, a well known Polish writer, repeatedly begged friends and relatives to let him put an end to his sufferings. Today his fiance, Stanislaw Unkusa visited him and was so overcome at the sight of his agony that she could not resist his pitiable pleadings. She shot him in the head and he is not expected to recover.

RAIN HALTS SOME FIRES

San Francisco, July 16.—Eastern Washington, northern Idaho and northern California today were continuing their battles against forest fires but rains in western Oregon and Washington had nearly ended the fire menace there.

AMERICAN AIRMEN ARE GREETED BY GREAT CROWD IN BRITISH AIRDROME

Croyden, England, July 16.—The American army airmen, on their world flight, landed here at 2:08 o'clock this afternoon.

The aviators made the distance between Le Bourget and Croyden, estimated at 225 miles in 3 hours and three minutes. The three machines taxied easily into the Croyden airdrome after an uneventful flight across the channel from Paris.

Lieut. Lowell H. Smith, the flight commander, was the first to land and one of the first to greet the airmen was Mrs. Stuart McLaren, wife of the British world flier, who asked word of her husband, now in the Far East.

"I am sorry we missed him, but glad we could help him," Lieut. Smith replied to Mrs. McLaren, referring to the new machine the American Expeditionary Forces were able to provide the British aviator in India last month.

Immediately following the flight, "Chicago," in which Lieut. Leslie Arnold accompanied Lieut. Smith, were Lieut. Eric Nilson and Lieut. Leigh Wade and Sgt. Ogden in the "Boston."

As the three planes swept up the field the crowd, which had gradually increased from a score or so to several hundred, burst into loud applause and hurried to clasp the hands of the airmen and have them write something in autograph albums, on the backs of envelopes or anything else handy.

"We are all well and feeling fine," Lieut. Smith said.

GRAND JURY TO MEET JULY 28

Butticeau, N. D., July 16.—The recessed Butticeau grand jury, which was to have been reconvened here yesterday before District Judge C. W. Buttz of the district court, will not assemble until Monday, July 28, on order of Judge Buttz, which was received here late Saturday.

The jury recently recessed after returning indictments against the entire board of Bottineau county commissioners, and the former county treasurer, alleging irregularities in connection with the deposit of county monies in a local bank which is alleged, had not provided sufficient surety bonds to cover the deposits.

LAFOLLETTE ASKS FUNDS

Nation-Wide Campaign Is Proposed by His Aides

Washington, July 16.—Financial support for the LaFollette-for-president movement was sought from 30 or more national labor organizations in an appeal sent out by officials of the conference for progressive political action which endorsed the Wisconsin senator's independent candidacy at its Cleveland convention.

Each group was urged to make an immediate contribution, to be used in defraying preliminary campaign expenses, and to aid in the solicitation later of funds from individuals in their organizations.

The appeal was made by William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, and Arthur E. Holder, chairman and secretary, respectively, of the conference. They said detailed plans for raising an adequate campaign fund, chiefly by small contributions from those in the working class, would be laid before the conference's national committee when it meets here Friday to select a vice presidential candidate and perfect campaign plans.

ELEVATOR IS DESTROYED

Loss in Fire at Lehr Is Estimated at $9,000

(Special to the Tribune)
Lehr, N. D., July 16.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Lehr Grain Company's elevator here, with an estimated loss of $9,000. About 2,000 bushels of grain was destroyed. Insurance to the amount of $7,000 was carried.

A Soo line car caught fire but was extinguished before any damage was done. Forty ties on the siding and about 500 grain doors burned, and the depot platform was slightly burned along the edge. The fire originated about 2 a. m.

FORMER BISMARCK GIRL, AGED SIX, ASTOUNDS BY GENIUS AT PIANO

Before an audience of 600 adults in the old Orpheum in St. Paul, Jeanette Weinstein, 6 years old, last week played selections from Grieg, Schuman, Beethoven, Rameau and Kmetny, unaided by the limelight, and unaided by the fact that she is being called a potential genius. Jeanette is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Weinstein, who formerly lived in Bismarck, until their removal to St. Paul.

At three Jeanette could hum the airs from phonographic records of the classics. It was then that her mother, who had relinquished in bitter disappointment her own dreams of becoming a great singer in the days when she lived in a barren little Russian village, planned to obtain for her children what she herself could not get, an opportunity to study music.

So Jeanette takes lessons and practices at a piano the pedals of which had to be raised to meet her short legs. Her teacher says she has a solute pitch, and she plays in the required tempo, with natural rhythm, and with more than a hint of tone now and then. She is all child, however, and does not like to practice very well. Large for her age, she is sturdy and healthy.

Jeanette's baby brother is quite a prodigy too. He is 18 months old and his mother says she cannot keep him away from the piano.

The talents of both children are natural gifts, whose worth others are estimating right now, with admiration for the present, and a vast hope for the future.

AMERICANS PRESENT

For Cooperation, But Have Not Same Status as Delegates, Says Kellogg

London, July 16 (By the A. P.)—The inter-allied conference for the purpose of making effective the Dawes plan for German reparations assembled at 11 o'clock today at the foreign office. American ambassador Kellogg and Col. James A. Logan Jr., the American observer with the reparations commission, were present with four advisers and a number of secretaries.

Formally welcoming the delegates to the conference, Prime Minister MacDonald made special reference to the presence of the Americans. He noted they were not present as full delegates but he took their presence as indicating the good will and cooperation of the United States in the effort to make the Dawes plan effective.

REPARATIONS BODY TAKES UP GERMAN PLANS

Considers Means of Restoring Economic Life After Dawes Plan Is Accepted

LAYS DOWN A BASIS

Five Propositions Are Approved for Putting Into Operation Dawes Plan

Paris, July 16.—The reparations commission devoted all of yesterday and a good part of the night to the request made in the joint Macdonald-Herriot note of last week that it submit to the London inter-allied conference suggestions with a view of establishing a plan whereby the economic and fiscal unity of Germany should be re-established as soon as the commission had decided that the Dawes report was in force.

The reparations body began by dividing the problem into two parts, discussing first the possibility of a plan providing for the transition from the present economic organization in the occupied region to the organization provided in the Dawes report. The commission, however, came to no agreement, deciding instead to ask the allied governments to supply it with supplementary explanations. It also passed the next part of the problem, namely, to define when the Dawes plan might be considered to be put into execution.

The reparations commission laid down what should, in its opinion, constitute the "putting into operation of the Dawes plan." These conditions, five of them, were adopted unanimously.

They are: first, voting by the Reichstag in a form approved by the reparations commission; second, necessary to the working of the plans and promulgation of these laws.

Second, installation with a view to their normal working of all the executive and controlling bodies provided in the plan.

Third, definite constitution, in conformity with the provisions of the respective laws of the German banks and of the German railway companies.

Fourth, deposit with the trustee of certificates representing railway bonds and such similar certificates for industrial debentures, as may result from the report of the organization committee.

Fifth, conclusion of contracts assuring the subscription of a loan of 800,000,000 gold marks as soon as the plan has been brought into operation and all the conditions contained in the experts' report have been fulfilled.

The latest hair-pins have clips in the center.

42 CROSSINGS ELIMINATED

Forty-two railroad crossings on state roads have been eliminated during the past year, either by underpass, realignment or relocation, according to A. D. McKinnon, project engineer of the States Highway Commission.

The forty-two crossings eliminated are for the most part on the heavily traveled state trunklines, said Mr. McKinnon, and are but a single step in the carrying out of the policy of the highway department to eliminate all railroad crossings on state roads.

The crossings that have been removed this year are those which were considered the most dangerous in the state, Mr. McKinnon said. The policy of the highway department calls for the further elimination of railroad crossings during the coming years.

Safety for motor vehicle drivers in the state has been materially increased, highway authorities agree, through the elimination of these forty-two most dangerous crossings.

Judge Engert Loses Private Library Valued at $7,000 In The Fire

Valley City, July 15.—Fire destroyed about 1,400 ft. of the Barnes county courthouse today, leaving almost nothing of the second floor. The private library of Judge W. J. Engert, valued at $7,000, was also destroyed. All other records were said to have been saved.

The fire was discovered by Fred Hemmett, a cook, who was about to leave his rooming place nearby en route to his place of employment. He saw the smoke and spread the alarm.

Records were hastily removed and temporary county offices and places for safekeeping of books and documents are being arranged today at various downtown buildings.

The building, a two-story brick structure, was built in 1892 but extensively remodelled and improved in 1900.

ATTENDANCE AT FAIR SETS A NEW RECORD

State Fair at Fargo Exceeds Mark Set by It Two Years Ago There

Fargo, July 15.—With an attendance of more than double the attendance of last year at Grand Forks and even double of the last state fair in Fargo two years ago, the North Dakota state fair today appeared to have set another attendance mark with ideal weather prevailing.

Old settlers and children's day, today, brought out a good crowd of pioneer residents of the Northwest to the fair.

Today opens the events in business racing and with a fast track the greatest speed program ever attempted by the fair management is under way.

Another center of attraction today was the exhibit of the agriculture department which is placed in the center of the merchants pavilion this year.

The Real Appetizing Breakfast Food
One usually thinks of an automobile engine as a living, pulsing, dynamic source of power which can conquer mountain grades and annihilate distances. Yet if you rub it of oil of its energizing force—gasoline and electricity—it becomes at once a mere motionless, powerless mass of metal.
The human machine, or body, requires 16 different energizing or food elements instead of only two. If you rub it of any of these, there is also a resultant loss of energy, fatigue and endurance.
BREAKFAST DWARFIES—the whole wheat food—supplies all 16 of these important elements in proper proportion, hence it is conducive to radiant health and dynamic energy. And it has an instant flavor because of its sweet, rich, appetizing flavor.

RUST BECOMES GENERAL OVER VALLEY FARMS

Minneapolis, July 15.—Reports received today by the conference for the prevention of grain rust from plant disease specialists of the United States department of agriculture, indicate that a very light spread of black rust is becoming fairly general in the spring wheat belt as far north as the Red River Valley.
"Over the week end the first definite traces of the infection were observed in North Dakota," says Carlton Hanson, secretary of the conference. "A few pustules of rust have been found in certain fields in Ransom, Sargent, Cass and Richland counties and in the spring wheat plots at the state agricultural college. In southeastern Cass county, where the rust in previous years usually has been the heaviest, no infection was noted Sunday in a trip west from Fargo to Chaffee, North to Casselton, and back to Fargo. This is the section in which the barley eradication has been most thorough."

"As yet no stem rust has been found by the federal men in Montana or the northern Red River Valley."

101 Cents
Worth of Gasoline in
Your 1923
Dollar
As compared with the 1913 worth of the dollar, while it bought only 51.8 cents worth of clothing, 60 cents worth of shoes, 61.2 cents worth of rent, 68.5 cents worth of food, 45 cents worth of frame building, 53.4 cents worth of furniture and house furnishings, 46.3 cents worth of brick building, or 73.5 cents worth of farm crops. (National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.)
Gasoline is more than low in price. It is lower in price than almost any other essential commodity in general use.
This state of affairs has not "just happened." The fact that the 1923 dollar will buy more gasoline than the 1913 dollar could purchase is due largely to intelligent work and efficient organization by the leaders of the petroleum industry in general, and, so far as the Middle West is concerned, to the efficiency of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).
In a recent interview, President Coolidge stated that "It was right for men to organize, and the ends of society were best served by organization, provided the organization was for service."
The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is emphatically an organization for service. From the very acquisition of the crude oil, to the last drop of gasoline run into your tank at a Standard Oil Company (Indiana) filling station, every thought, effort and act of this Company is bent toward giving the best service to the consumer.
This "best" service necessarily includes a low price. And the price of gasoline made by this Company has been perennially low, (both absolutely, and in comparison with other commodities) over a long period of time.
But price is only one angle of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service. It is the comprehensive facilities provided by this Company, embracing a complete cycle of service, which increases the purchasing power of your 1923 gasoline dollar over and above the 1913 gasoline dollar.
The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has anticipated automotive development. It has created great, modern refineries. It has trained a loyal and efficient body of employees. It has erected great storage depots to hold reserves of gasoline during the off-season against the period of rush demand. It has built an almost endless chain of service stations.
As a result, today you are able to fill up your gasoline tank at will, anywhere and everywhere, with uniformly dependable gasoline of high quality, at prices persistently and consistently low.

WHEAT OPENS LOW, GAINS

Rain in Canada Fails to Check Market's Ascent

Chicago, July 16 (By the A. P.)—Although rain over part of the dry district in Canada led to a weak opening in the wheat market today, prices soon made a swift upturn. The chief reason appeared to be that crop reports from Canada were of a character that indicated widespread irreparable damage. In this connection a leading expert sent dispatches from Davidson, Saskatchewan, telling of having seen thousands of acres of wheat that would scarcely make the seed and much that was burned almost bare, worthless to harvest. Opening prices, which ranged from 1 1/4 cents decline to 1 3/4 cents advance, September 1.20 1/4 to 1.20 3/4 and December 1.24 1/4 to 1.24 3/4, were followed by a moderate general sag and then a jump to about 1 1/2 cents above yesterday's finish, with trading again on a big scale.

The close was buoyant, 3 3/4 cents to 5 1/2 cents net higher, September 1.26 1/4 to 1.27 and December 1.29 to 1.29 1/4.

MANY FARMERS HERE DECLARE FOR CO. FAIR

Express Belief That It Is Necessary Part of Agricultural Program

INTERVIEWS GIVEN

Many Burleigh county citizens not living in Bismarck are in favor of a corn and dairy show and fair. They expressed themselves, while in the city today, many of them to attend the organization meetings of the political parties at the courthouse.

The general opinion expressed was that a fair is a necessary part of a campaign to exploit Burleigh county as an agricultural center.

Opinions given in the Tribune in brief interviews follow:

Arne Madland, McKenzie—"I believe a county fair would be a good thing for the farmers. We could have as successful a fair as any of the other counties."

George W. H. Hix, Lincoln township—"It is the best move we have talked of for a good while. It is the one thing that Burleigh county has always been lame on, not having a fair, or stock show."

Mrs. W. M. Luke, Apple Creek—"I should say by all means that we should have a county fair."

W. E. Breen, of near Bismarck—"Certainly I am in favor of a corn and stock show for our county."

F. H. Pillsbury, Moffit—"A corn and stock show is what I would most for; it's a better thing than a fair. We ought to have it."

C. L. Malone, Regan—"I am in favor of a general fair. We can have it late in the fall, so that all fruits, grains and other farm products can be exhibited."

D. E. Spangberg, Regan—"A general county fair, if held late enough for corn and other late maturing products to be exhibited, would be a fine thing for Burleigh county. We can just as well have it as many other counties of the state."

O. C. Uhde, Regan—"I see no reason why we should not have a fair. I believe most of the farmers would favor it."

C. F. Lindsey, Regan—"It would be a good thing for the county. A general fair would include dairy and corn exhibits, and would prove a greater attraction to people all over the county."

James Novy, Wing—"I am in favor of a county fair. The farmers out my way seem all to be favorably inclined towards it."

Oscar Anstrom, Baldwin—"Surely, I favor a fair. We need something to boost the county."

Science Seeks Birthplace of Man in Desert

Having established to their own satisfaction the fact that man existed 600,000 years ago, scientists will now attempt to trace his origin back another million years.

Led by Roy Chapman Andrews, who returned from Asia a year ago with a nest of 25 dinosaur eggs ten million years old, another expedition sailed from the United States May 25th for China. Thence the party will proceed into the heart of the Gobi desert, in Mongolia, where it is hoped a five-year search will reveal further amazing secrets concerning the early life of man, beast and reptile.

As in the previous expeditions, the scientists will rely on American-built motor cars and trucks for transportation, although roads are unknown in most of the vast territory to be explored.

Mr. Andrews recently visited Dodge Brothers factory in Detroit, where five cars were being equipped for the expedition. Mr. Andrews expressed great satisfaction with the new equipment and repeated that he attributed a great share of the success of his last memorable expedition to the remarkable endurance of Dodge Brothers cars. These made it possible to accomplish a 30-year task in three years. In view of this experience it was only natural that he should again insist upon Dodge Brothers cars for his next expedition.

Fifteen scientists representing twelve branches of learning, chosen from 4,000 applicants constitute the party.

While scientists differ on the subject, especially since the discovery of the 600,000-year-old Peking man in England, Mr. Andrews is of the belief that man evolved in Asia and that it will be in the younger rocks of Mongolia, if anywhere, that traces of his first activities will be found.

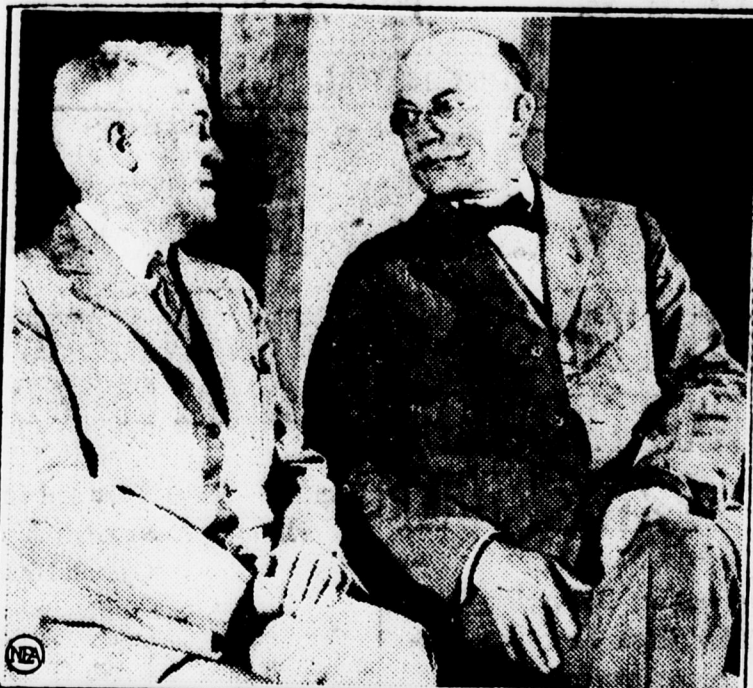

He is strongly supported in this theory by such an eminent scientist as Henry Fairfield Osborn who was referred to by William Jennings Bryan, in their famous debate on evolution, as "a tall professor who comes down out of the trees to push good people who believe in God off the sidewalk."

"When we found the ten-million-year-old dinosaur eggs, we were examining rocks older than humanity," said Mr. Andrews. "But now we are going to the rocks where human remains are more likely to exist. It is a gamble, but we think the prospects justify gambling."

HE CAUGHT HIS TRAIN!

The Los Angeles school board, perturbed by liberal political views of Willis T. Newton, professor of economics (left), declined to grant him leave of absence in time to catch an eastbound limited for the National Education Association's convention in Washington. But that did not keep Newton from getting there. As soon as school closed, he hopped in an airplane and overtook the train on which his reservations had been made.

Cracks in Furniture

Ugly cracks in furniture may be easily filled in with beeswax so that the marks will hardly show. Slightly soften the beeswax until it becomes pliable, then press it firmly into the cracks and smooth the surface with a thin knife. Sandpaper the surrounding wood and work some dust into the beeswax. This gives it a wood finish and when it is varnished the cracks will have disappeared.

Resolution Amendment Indorsing President Fails in Republican Meeting

Nonpartisans of Burleigh county this afternoon controlled the organization of the Republican county committee. Precinct committeemen elected at the June 25 primary assembled in the courthouse at 2 p. m., as required by law, to organize the county unit of the Republican organization.

The election was as follows: County Chairman, Howard Thomas of Driscoll; secretary, August Doehle of Moffit; five other members of an executive committee, first district, L. J. Wehe; second, Arne Madland; third, O. C. Uhde; fourth, Frank Prater; fifth, J. H. Small.

When the convention met Mr. Thomas was named temporary chairman and then elected county chairman. Most of the 60 precincts were represented. A resolutions committee consisting of J. N. Hagan, L. J. Wehe and Frank Prater was named after the credentials committee, composed of Frank Prater, C. F. Lindsey and Eugene Walla had examined credentials.

John N. Hagan was named Burleigh county member of the state executive committee.

Is Your Business Still in the Dark Ages?

Most of us probably think of the Dark Ages as a dead issue—something that happened a long time ago—something that we had to study as boys—something wiped out today by the tremendous progress made by modern business.

But think about those days for a minute. They were days of lost communication—days of doubt and mistrust—days when no man knew his neighbor—days when a man controlled only what he could hold by constant fighting—days when everyone was the enemy of everyone else, because no one understood what others were doing.

Printing was one of the most powerful influences in breaking the Dark Ages. The discovery of paper, and the development of the art of printing from movable type spread knowledge and understanding through a world benighted.

Where men have written and reproduced books laboriously by hand—where the only news of the outside world and the only stories ever heard were carried by traveling minstrels—printing now spreads news to millions.

What, you ask, has all this to do with your business?

Simply this:

Any business today which does not set down its ideas and ideals in printing—any business which depends upon its salesmen to tell its policy and present its goods in person, like traveling minstrels—is doing business by "dark age" methods.

You cannot be known beyond your immediate circle; you cannot control any more business than you can continually fight for; you cannot be understood except by a relatively few—unless you use printing, or waste years doing what printing can do in days or weeks.

Crystalize your thoughts in the printed page. Speak, through printing, to all you should reach. Look upon printing for what it is—the greatest instrument of communication, understanding and progress ever devised by man. That is what printing is. That is what you should use it for.

Call on us and let us show you the many ways to use printing.

Smooth-Working Machine To Be Sought by Butler.

Washington, July 16.—Having deferred opening of the active national campaign until August 14, Republican leaders declared they planned to use the intervening month in building up a smoothly-running party machine.

The framework of the party organization as turned over by John F. Adams, retiring national chairman, and added to by William M. Butler, the new national chairman, is to be strengthened and rounded out under the present plans; additional headquarters are to be opened; any existing factional differences will be eliminated so far as possible and the whole situation brought to a point where the campaign can be energetically put under way immediately.

President Coolidge sounds the keynote at his notification ceremonies here August 14.

The plans for the intervening month of work will be discussed by Mr. Coolidge with Chairman Butler before the end of the week.

Good and Bad Luck Connected With Cats

Many are the superstitions connected with the sleek domestic cat. Even cat haters will not turn the purring black tom from their doors, for they know the good luck he brings; nor will they dare to ill-treat him because of the bad luck that will inevitably follow.

Should he saunter across her path as she leaves the church on her wedding day, rubbing his head against her satin gown, the bride, however much she may dislike him and however grimy he may be, will welcome his attentions and rejoice at the happy omen of good luck in store for her.

Another cat superstition is that he must not approach a sleeping babe's cot or there will be trouble, and another that if a cat sneezes some one in the house will be ill.

To dream of a cat means that one's friends are false. Treachery is afoot. But if the animal is yet a young and playful kitten the meaning is reversed and powerful friends are watching over the dreamer.

Those who believe the superstition that the spirits of witches dwell in black cats should be very careful to resist the temptation of throwing water over the night warblers on the roof; for it is said that witches in the shape of black cats roam over the house tops. It is truly dangerous to offend a witch—seven years' bad luck!

Real Petrified Forest in Northern Arizona

The petrified national forest, one of the twenty-nine national monuments established by presidential proclamation, is the only region of hundreds of places in the Southwest in which stunted wood occurs in such abundance as to deserve the name of petrified forest. It is located in northern Arizona south of the town of Adavado on the Santa Fe railroad and was designated as a national monument in 1906.

There are three principal groups of forests in which trees or blocks of the petrified wood lie scattered about in profusion. Many tree trunks exceed 100 feet in length and cross sections reveal the fact that these trees, which are oaks, did not grow there but probably beside an inland sea, and upon falling became water-logged on the bottom here. During decomposition the cell structure of the wood was entirely replaced by silica derived from sandstone in the surrounding land.

The state of mineralization in which much of the wood exists almost places it with gems of precious stones. Not only are chert, opals and agates found, but many trees approach the condition of Jasper and onyx.

Evening Dance

It is requested that those wanting movie tickets or swimming pool tickets come to the Masonic Temple as soon as they arrive in town and get them.

Besides the concert given by St. Mary's Band there will be music on the streets all afternoon by a clown band and in the evening there will be a pavement dance, the music to be furnished by the Wildwood orchestra who will give up the dance at there that evening in order to help wind up the days doings in town.

"Every one living outside of Bismarck is urged to come to town that day and have a good time. No one in the city is going to ask a single person to spend a cent. We just want everyone to come here on this second monthly holiday and have a good time with us. The committee in charge hopes to make each month's holiday just a little better than the one before and to finally wind up in the full with a really big Harvest Home festival," says an announcement of the Bismarck Advertising Club.

News of Our Neighbors

MOFFIT

The Modern Woodmen of America, local number, held their first meeting within the past week. A large number of men from Moffit and vicinity were admitted into the order. A number of Driscoll, N. D., members assisted at the initiation exercises and the meeting was held at the V. Benz hall. Best wishes for the growth and prosperity of the Moffit local number.

Many village and farm folks from Moffit and vicinity attended the Robbins Bros. circus at Bismarck and all report a good time. Much good natured chaffing is passing around, due to the fact that two or three of our local men had the good fortune to be escorted to the gates of the reserved, seat section by the very effeminate lady? clown. After receiving her parting kiss at the gate, the honored gentlemen decided that "she" was a "he".

Mrs. Jason Hoover and Miss Thilda Vangstead, who teaches in Morton Township and lives at the Jason Hoover farm near Britton, N. D., leave here July 16 for a visit to Minnesota. The two ladies expect to return to Moffit in a couple of weeks. The two small sons of Mrs. Jason Hoover will accompany her on her visit to her parents home near Sauk Centre, Minn. Miss Vangstead's parents also live near Sauk Centre.

Two brothers, Ed and Mike Klee, who have been traveling for the past eighteen months or more, returned to Moffit recently and again live in their small cottage in the Bailey addition to Moffit. Of the brothers, the state of Oregon was the one that they found and liked the best, California was a close second.

Mrs. H. N. Bullock is still away enjoying a visit with relatives residing near Grimes, Iowa. She is accompanied by her small granddaughter, Miss Inez Peckins. It is not known just when Mrs. Bullock will return.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Argast and children returned to their farm home near Moffit during the past week, after an absence of a week or more. Mrs. Argast reports mountain climbing quite tiring but very enjoyable, nevertheless.

Mr. Harry Nelson our local agent on the Soo returned to Moffit accompanied by a sweet, blushing bride. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will occupy the parsonage for the present.

The Grandmothers club of Moffit will meet at the farm home of Mrs. Fred Dutton in Emmons county on Thursday July 17th.

Good pictures promised for July 19 by Mr. Lowe, the movie man, "A Baby Peggy" comedy and a Paramount, entitled, "A Fool's Paradise".

TUTTLE

Phebe Ann Swett, daughter of Valentine and Sarah Hibbs, was born near Symira, Guernsey County, Ohio, May 17th, 1852 and departed this life at her home July 10th, age 72 years and 21 days.

At the age of about one year she moved with her parents to near Pleasant Plain, Iowa, where she resided until about 1890, when she came to Dakota Territory, where she homesteaded, in Apple Creek Township, Burleigh County and taught the first school ever held in the Township, she having followed the teaching profession since about 1863, having attended the Whittier College in Iowa and graduated from the Penn College at Oskaloosa, Iowa, in 1868. She was united in marriage to Oren L. Swett, March 16th, 1885, shortly after which she returned to her homestead 25 miles East of Bismarck, later moving into the city and in 1900 they moved to their present home in Kiddier county, 12 miles North of Tuttle.

Mrs. Swett adapted herself to the pioneer conditions of the country and taught her children seven years after coming to Kiddier county, no school being available nearer than 20 miles, which was also the nearest post-office.

Mr. Swett having preceded her to the Great Unknown, in July 1912, she leaves three sons, one step-son and three sisters, besides a host of friends and neighbors to mourn her departure.

Funeral services were conducted at the family home by the Rev. Mr. Burns of Steele, burial following at

ACCIDENT LED TO PLACING OF JEFFERSON IN ROLE IN "LIGHTNIN"

Thomas Jefferson and Charles E. Evans, in "Lightnin's" famous court-room scene, to be presented at the Auditorium tonight.

"What's yours, Mr. Bacon?" It was a waiter at the Lamb's Club, New York, addressing a lean-visaged, gray-haired man who had entered with John Golden, the theatrical producer. Golden had ordered a luncheon in his characteristic quiet, trigger-fashion but his guest, still holding the menu card, seemed to be in no hurry.

The order was finally given and the waiter departed without discovering an error in identity which brought an exchange of winks and a broad grin to the face of each diner.

"That waiter has given me a great idea, Tom!" exclaimed Golden, his smile giving way to a sudden earnestness. "You're going to play 'Lightnin'!"

And thus was Thomas Jefferson, son of the late Joseph Jefferson, picked for the title role of the famous comedy classic to be presented at the Auditorium tonight.

MANY VISIT N. D. MUSEUM

Proves Attractive Place For Boys and Girls

Parties of school children from nearby "counties" are making visits to the state capital during the vacation, to visit the museum of the State Historical Society. These visits, in addition to about 100 tourists a day, have given the museum more visitors this summer than in many years, according to L. F. Crawford, acting curator.

Seventeen Boy Scouts of Center, under the leadership of the County Superintendent and Mrs. Jennings, and 50 boys and girls of the Grant and Hettinger county calf and pig and similar clubs are among the latest visitors to the museum.

Additional relics continuing to be given to the museum. Mr. Crawford reports the gift of a fossilized mastodon tooth by Albert Youngblood of Sentinel Butte who picked up the relic of the monsters which roamed the state thousands of years ago, in the Badlands. Mastodon teeth have been found frequently in the Badlands for many years, Mr. Crawford said.

Dr. J. E. Engstad of Grand Forks has given a static X-Ray machine, one of the first of its kind used in North Dakota, and other old surgical instruments. Mrs. Sophia Sturgeon of Edgeley has given a Sioux Indian collection and also a number of mineral specimens. John McCurdy of Hazelton has given a double barreled revolver that was in his family more than 100 years.

POLICE HUNT FOR SLAYER

Eight-Year-Old Boy's Mutilated Body Is Found

New York, July 16.—Police on Staten Island today continued search for the slayers of 8-year-old Francis McDonald, son of a policeman, whose mutilated body was found late last night, in a hastily constructed grave of brush and leaves near the child's home.

The boy's suspenders, knotted tightly about the throat, had been used to strangle him. Nearly all the clothing had been torn from the body and scattered about. A neighbor saw the boy Monday afternoon walking toward some woods. Just ahead of the boy was a man 50 years old.

According to Deputy Medical Examiner George Ford the face of the boy was covered with blood and the hands and arms were discolored by bruises. Official photographers of the police department were summoned to the morgue to make detailed pictures of the corpse, and it is their opinion that the eye of the camera will bring to light hidden clues of the slayer.

Minot, N. D., July 16.—Miss Lenore Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson, 710 Third street northwest, Minot, will leave on next Saturday on the first lap of a journey which will end at Sitka, Alaska, where for the next three years she will serve as a missionary under the national Presbyterian board. Miss Robertson will be connected with the Sheldon-Jacobson school, a Presbyterian mission institution, in which are enrolled approximately 150 native children from all parts of Alaska. Miss Robertson will go from Minot to Seattle, thence sailing by boat to Alaska on July 29.

For the past several months Miss Robertson has been secretary of the local Presbyterian church. She was graduated last year from the North-

Smooth-Working Machine To Be Sought by Butler

Washington, July 16.—Having deferred opening of the active national campaign until August 14, Republican leaders declared they planned to use the intervening month in building up a smoothly-running party machine.

The framework of the party organization as turned over by John T. Adams, retiring national chairman, and added to by William M. Butler, the new national chairman, is to be strengthened and rounded out under the present plans; additional headquarters are to be opened; any existing factional differences will be eliminated so far as possible and the whole situation brought to a point where the campaign can be energetically put under way immediately.

President Coolidge sounds the keynote at his notification ceremonies here August 14.

The plans for the intervening month of work will be discussed by Mr. Coolidge with Chairman Butler before the end of the week.

Good and Bad Luck Connected With Cats

Many are the superstitions connected with the sleek domestic cat. Even cat haters will not turn the purring black tom from their doors, for they know the good luck he brings; nor will they dare to ill-treat him because of the bad luck that will inevitably follow.

Should he saunter across her path as she leaves the church on her wedding day, rubbing his head against her satin gown, the bride, however much she may dislike him and however grimy he may be, will welcome his attentions and rejoice at the happy omen of good luck in store for her.

Another cat superstition is that he must not approach a sleeping babe's cot or there will be trouble, and another that if a cat sneezes some one in the house will be ill.

To dream of a cat means that one's friends are false. Treachery is afoot. But if the animal is yet a young and playful kitten the meaning is reversed and powerful friends are watching over the dreamer.

Those who believe the superstition that the spirits of witches dwell in black cats should be very careful to resist the temptation of throwing water over the night warblers on the roofs; for it is said that witches in the shape of black cats roam over the houseposts. It is truly dangerous to offend a witch—seven years' bad luck!

Real Petrified Forest in Northern Arizona

The petrified national forest, one of the twenty-nine national monuments established by presidential proclamation, is the only region of hundreds of places in the Southwest in which silicified wood occurs in such abundance as to deserve the name of petrified forest. It is located in northern Arizona south of the town of Adamana on the Santa Fe railroad and was designated as a national monument in 1906.

There are three principal groups of forests in which trees or blocks of the petrified wood lie scattered about in profusion. Many tree stumps exceed 100 feet in length and cross sections reveal the fact that these trees, which are cedars, did not grow there, but probably beside an inland sea, and upon falling became water-logged on the bottom here. During decomposition the cell structure of the wood was entirely replaced by silica derived from sandstone in the surrounding land.

The state of mineralization in which much of the wood exists at most places is with gems of precious stones. Not only are chalcedony, opals and agates found, but many traces approach the condition of jasper and onyx.

Evening Dance

It is requested that those wanting movie tickets or swimming pool tickets come to the Masonic Temple as soon as they arrive in town and get them.

Besides the concert given by St. Mary's Band there will be music on the streets all afternoon by a clown band and in the evening there will be a pavement dance, the music to be furnished by the Wildwood orchestra who will give up the dance at there that evening in order to help wind up the days' doings in town.

"Every one living outside of Bismarck is urged to come to town that day and have a good time. No one in the city is going to ask a single person to spend a cent. We just want everyone to come here on this second monthly holiday and have a good time with us. The committee in charge hopes to make each month's holiday just a little better than the one before and to finally wind up in the fall with a really big Harvest Home festival," says an announcement of the Bismarck Advertising Club.

News of Our Neighbors

MOFFIT

The Modern Woodmen of America, local number, held their first meeting within the past week. A large number of men from Moffit and vicinity were admitted into the order. A number of Driscoll, N. D., members assisted at the initiation exercises and the meeting was held at the V. Benz hall. Best wishes for the growth and prosperity of the Moffit local number.

Many village and farm folks from Moffit and vicinity attended the Robbins Bros. circus at Bismarck and all report a good time. Much good natured chaffing is passing around, due to the fact that two or three of our local men had the good fortune to be escorted to the gates of the reserved seat section by the very effeminate lady clown. After receiving her parting kiss at the gate, the honored gentlemen decided that "She" was a "He".

Mrs. Jason Hoover and Miss Thilda Vangstead who teaches in Morton Township and lives at the Jason Hoover farm near Britton, N. D., leave here July 18 for a visit to Minnesota, the two ladies expect to return to Moffit in a couple of weeks. The two small sons of Mrs. Jason Hoover will accompany her on her visit to her parents home near Sauk Centre, Minn. Miss Vangstead's parents also live near Sauk Centre.

Two brothers, Ed and Mike Kleiman who have been traveling for the past eighteen months or more, returned to Moffit recently and again live in their small cottage in the Bailey addition to Moffit. Of the brothers, the state of Oregon was the one that they found and liked the best, California was a close second.

Mrs. H. N. Bullock is still away enjoying a visit with relatives residing near Grimes, Iowa. She is accompanied by her small granddaughter, Miss Inez Peckins. It is not known just when Mrs. Bullock will return.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Argast and children returned to their farm home near Moffit during the past week, after an absence of a week or more. Mrs. Argast reports mountain climbing quite tiring but very enjoyable, nevertheless.

Mr. Harry Nelson our local agent on the Soo returned to Moffit accompanied by a sweet, blushing bride. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will occupy the parsonage for the present.

The Grandmothers club of Moffit will meet at the farm home of Mrs. Fred Dutton in Emmons county on Thursday July 17th.

Good pictures promised for July 19 by Mr. Lowe, the movie man, "A Baby Peggy" comedy and a Paramount, entitled, "A Fool's Paradise".

TUTTLE

Phoebe Ann Swett, daughter of Valentine and Sarah Hibbs, was born near Symira, Guernsey county, Ohio, May 17th, 1862 and departed this life at her home July 10th, age 72 years and 21 days.

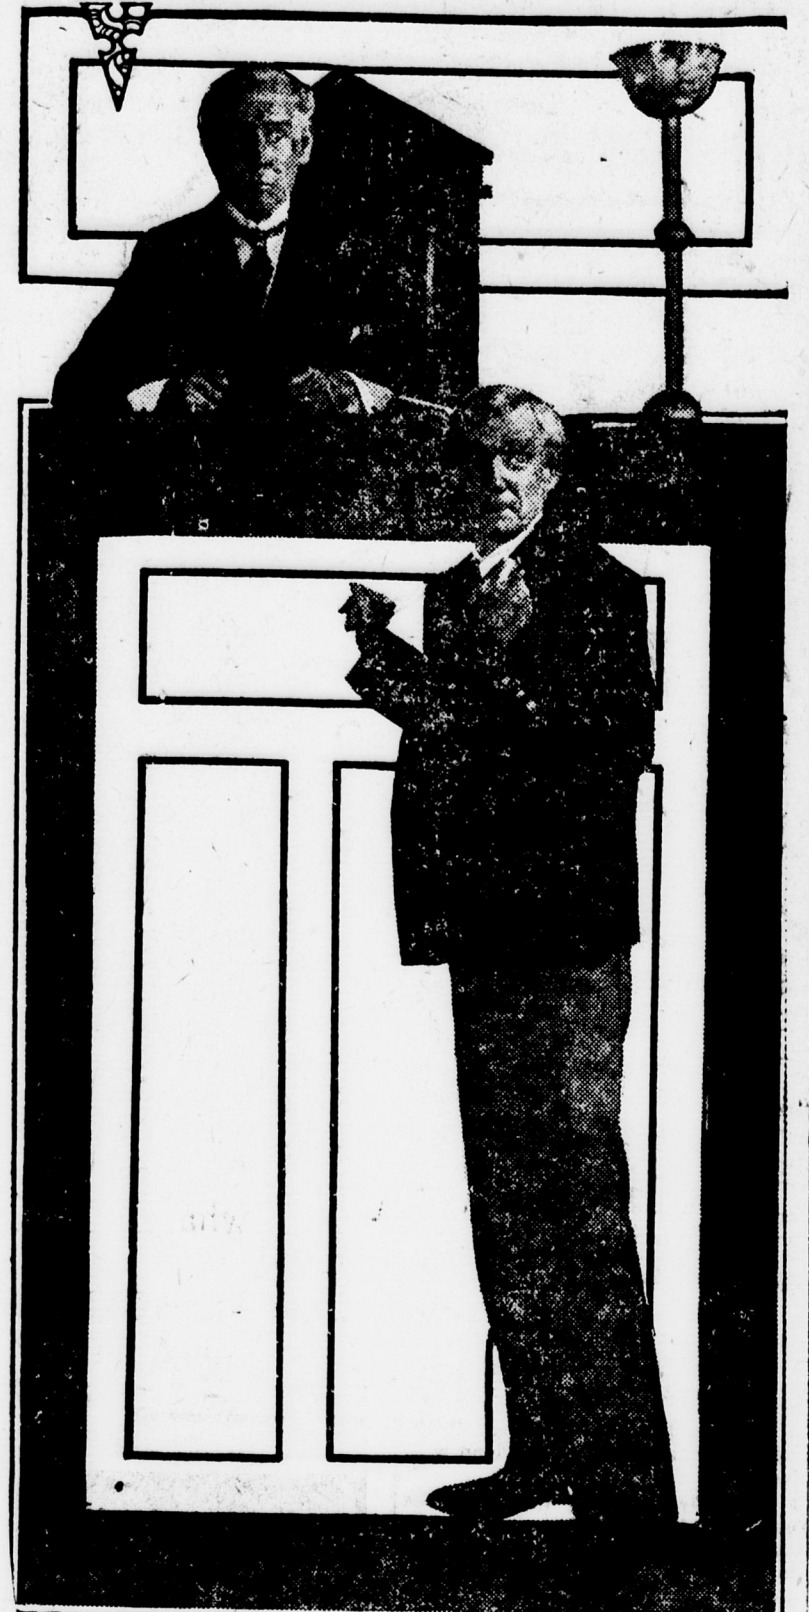

At the age of about one year she moved with her parents to near Pleasant Plain, Iowa, where she resided until about 1880, when she came to Dakota Territory, where she homesteaded, in Apple Creek Township, Burleigh county and taught the first school ever held in the Township, she having followed the teaching profession since about 1869, having attended the Whittier College in Iowa and graduated from the Penn College at Oskaloosa, Iowa, in 1868. She was united in marriage to Oren L. Swett, March 18th, 1886, shortly after which she returned to her homestead 25 miles East of Bismarck, later moving into the city and in 1900 they moved to their present home in Kidder county, 12 miles North of Tuttle.

Mrs. Swett adapted herself to the pioneer conditions of the country and taught her children seven years after coming to Kidder county, no school being available nearer than 20 miles, which was also the nearest post-office.

Mr. Swett having preceded her to the Great Unknown, in July 1912, she leaves three sons, one step-son and three sisters, besides a host of friends and neighbors to mourn her departure.

Funeral services were conducted at the family home by the Rev. Mr. Burns of Steele, burial following at

ACCIDENT LED TO PLACING OF JEFFERSON IN ROLE IN "LIGHTNIN"

Thomas Jefferson and Charles E. Evans, in "Lightnin's" famous courtroom scene, to be presented at the Auditorium tonight.

"What's yours, Mr. Bacon?"

It was a waiter at the Lamb's Club, New York, addressing a lean-visaged, gray-haired man who had entered with John Golden, the theatrical producer. Golden had ordered his luncheon in his characteristic quick-trigger fashion but his guest, still holding the menu card, seemed to be in no hurry.

The order was finally given and the waiter departed without discovering an error in identity which had brought an exchange of winks and a broad grin to the face of each diner. "That waiter has given me a great idea, Tom!" exclaimed Golden, his smile giving way to a sudden earnestness. "You're going to play 'Lightnin'!"

And thus was Thomas Jefferson, son of the late Joseph Jefferson, picked for the title role of the famous comedy classic to be presented at the Auditorium tonight.

WHEAT OPENS LOW, GAINS

Gain in Canada Fails to Check Market's Ascent

Chicago, July 16 (By the A. P.)—Although rain over part of the dry district in Canada led to a weak opening in the wheat market today, the chief reason appeared to be that crop reports from Canada were of a character that indicated widespread irreparable damage. In this connection a leading expert sent dispatches from Davidson, Saskatchewan, telling of having seen thousands of acres of wheat that will surely make the seed and much of the grain burned almost bare, worthless to harvest. Opening prices, which ranged from 1 1/2 cents to 1 3/4 cents advance, September 1.20 1/2 to 1.20 3/4, and December 1.24 to 1.24 1/2, were followed by a moderate general sag and then a jump to about 1 1/2 cents above yesterday's finish, with trading again on a big scale.

The close was buoyant, 3 1/2 cents to 5 1/2 cents net higher, September 1.26 1/2 to 1.27 and December 1.29 to 1.29 1/2.

MANY FARMERS HERE DECLARE FOR CO. FAIR

Express Belief That It Is Necessary Part of Agricultural Program

INTERVIEWS GIVEN

Many Burleigh county citizens not living in Bismarck are in favor of a corn and dairy show and fair. They expressed themselves, while in the city today, many of them to attend the organization meetings of the political parties at the courthouse.

The general opinion expressed was that a fair is a necessary part of a campaign to exploit Burleigh county as an agricultural center.

Opinions given The Tribune in brief interviews follow:

Anne Madland, McKenzie—"I believe a county fair would be a good thing for the farmers. We could have as successful a fair as any of the other counties."

George W. Hedrix, Lincoln township—"It is the best move we have made for a good while. It is the one thing that Burleigh county has always been lame on, not having a fair or stock show."

Mrs. W. M. Luke, Apple Creek—"I should say by all means that we should have a county fair."

W. E. Breen, of near Bismarck—"Certainly I am in favor of a corn and stock show for our county."

F. H. Pillsbury, Moffit—"A corn and stock show is what I would boost for. It's a better thing than a fair. We ought to have it."

C. L. Malone, Regan—"I am in favor of a general fair. We can have it late in the fall, so that all fruits, grains and other farm products can be exhibited."

D. E. Spangberg, Regan—"A general county fair, if held late enough for corn and other late maturing products to be exhibited, would be a fine thing for Burleigh county. We can just as well have it as many other counties of the state."

O. C. Uhde, Regan—"I see no reason why we should not have a fair. I believe most of the farmers would favor it."

C. F. Lindsey, Regan—"It would be a good thing for the county. A general fair would include dairy and corn exhibits, and would prove a greater attraction to people all over the county."

James Novy, Wing—"I am in favor of a county fair. The farmers out my way seem all to be favorably inclined towards it."

Oscar Anstrom, Baldwin—"Surely I favor a fair. We need something to boost the county."

Science Seeks Birthplace of Man in Desert

Having established to their own satisfaction the fact that man existed 600,000 years ago, scientists will now attempt to trace his origin back another million years.

Led by Roy Chapman Andrews, who returned from Asia a year ago with a nest of 26 dinosaur eggs ten million years old, another expedition called from the United States May 25th for China. Thence the party will proceed into the heart of the Gobi desert, in Mongolia, where it is hoped a five-year search will reveal further amazing secrets concerning the early life of man, beast and reptile.

As in the previous expeditions, the scientists will rely on American-built motor cars and trucks for transportation, although roads are unknown in most of the vast territory to be explored. Mr. Andrews recently visited Dodge Brothers factory in Detroit, where five cars were being equipped for the expedition. Mr. Andrews expressed great satisfaction with the new equipment and repeated that he attributed a great share of the success of his last memorable expedition to the remarkable endurance of Dodge Brothers cars. These made it possible to accomplish a 30-year task in three years. In view of this experience it was only natural that he should again insist upon Dodge Brothers cars for his next expedition.

Fifteen scientists representing twelve branches of learning, chosen from 4,000 applicants constitute the party.

While scientists differ on the subject, especially since the discovery of the 600,000-year-old Foxhill man in England, Mr. Andrews is of the belief that man evolved in Asia and that it will be in the younger rocks of Mongolia, if anywhere, that traces of his first activities will be found. He is strongly supported in this theory by such an eminent scientist as Henry Fairfield Osborn who was referred to by William Jennings Bryan, in their famous debate on evolution, as "a tall professor who comes down out of the trees to push good people who believe in God off the sidewalk."

"When we found the ten-million-year-old dinosaur eggs, we were examining rocks older than humanity," said Mr. Andrews. "But now we are going to the rocks where human remains are more likely to exist. It is a gamble, but we think the prospects justify gambling."

But that did not keep Newton from getting there. As soon as school closed, he snopped in an airplane and overtook the train on which his reservations had been made.

Cracks in Furniture

Ugly cracks in furniture may be easily filled in with beeswax so that the marks will hardly show. Slightly soften the beeswax until it becomes pliable, then press it firmly into the cracks and smooth the surface with a thin knife. Sandpaper the surrounding wood and work some dust into the beeswax. This gives it a wood finish and when it is varnished the cracks will have disappeared.

DECORATED WINDOW SHADES

A new note in decoration is the ornamented window shade. A design is cut from a decorative fabric which harmonizes in color and character with the furnishings of the room. The best quality liquid glue is applied along the edge of the motif which is then attached to the shade.

TURN DOWN COOLIDGE

Resolution Amendment Indorsing President Fails in Republican Meeting

Nonpartisans of Burleigh county this afternoon controlled the organization of the Republican county committee. Freedrick committee members elected at the June 25 primary assembled in the courthouse at 2 p. m., as required by law, to organize the county unit of the Republican organization.

The election was as follows: County Chairman, Howard Thomas of Driscoll; secretary, August Doehle of Moffit; five other members of an executive committee, first district, L. J. Wehe; second, Arne Madland; third, O. C. Uhde, fourth, Frank Prater; fifth, J. H. Small.

When the convention met Mr. Thomas was named temporary chairman and then elected county chairman. Most of the 60 precincts were represented. A resolutions committee consisting of J. N. Hagan, L. J. Wehe and Frank Prater was named after the credentials committee, composed of Frank Prater, C. F. Lindsey and Eugene Wallu had examined credentials.

John N. Hagan was named Burleigh county member of the state executive committee.

With the Nonpartisans in control the only brush was when E. T. Burke of Bismarck offered an amendment to the resolutions' committee's report declaring support for President Calvin Coolidge as the regular nominee of the Republican national convention. This was rejected on a viva voce vote.

The report of the resolutions committee, which was adopted, follows:

"We your undersigned committee on resolutions and platform hereby recommend the adoption of the following:

"We, the Burleigh County Republican Central Committee assembled in convention this 16th day of July, 1924, at the county court house in the city of Bismarck, express ourselves in favor of and indorse the progressive Republican principles as voiced by North Dakota's representatives in the United States Senate and pledge ourselves to support these progressive principles upon which the head of the state Republican ticket was nominated for Governor in the June primaries and pledge our every endeavor to insure a victory for these progressive principles in the fall election.

In order to carry these expressions into action we recommend a county executive committee of seven (7) members to consist of the following: county chairman, county secretary and one member to be elected from each of the five (5) commissioner's districts.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN N. HAGAN, chairman.

L. J. WEHE.

FRANK PRATER.

The Democrats, in their organization, elected Christ Bertisch as county chairman and Mrs. F. R. Smyth as secretary. W. E. Breen was named Burleigh county member of the state central committee.

Is Your Business Still in the Dark Ages?

Most of us probably think of the Dark Ages as a dead issue — something that happened a long time ago—something that we had to study as boys — something wiped out today by the tremendous progress made by modern business.

But think about those days for a minute. They were days of lost communication — days of doubt and mistrust—days when no man knew his neighbor—days when a man controlled only what he could hold by constant fighting—days when everyone was the enemy of everyone else, because no one understood what others were doing.

Printing was one of the most powerful influences in breaking the Dark Ages. The discovery of paper, and the development of the art of printing from movable type spread knowledge and understanding through a world benighted.

Where men have written and reproduced books laboriously by hand — where the only news of the outside world and the only stories ever heard were carried by traveling minstrels — printing now spreads news to millions.

What, you ask, has all this to do with your business?

Simply this:

Any business today which does not set down its ideas and ideals in printing — any business which depends upon its salesmen to tell its policy and present its goods in person, like traveling minstrels — is doing business by "dark-age" methods.

You cannot be known beyond your immediate circle; you cannot control any more business than you can continually fight for; you cannot be understood except by a relatively few — unless you use printing, or waste years doing what printing can do in days or weeks.

Crystalize your thoughts in the printed page. Speak, through printing, to all you should reach. Look upon printing for what it is — the greatest instrument of communication, understanding and progress ever devised by man. That is what printing is. That is what you should use it for.

Call on us and let us show you the many ways to use printing.

At The Movies

THE ELTINGE

The feature attraction at the Eltinge theatre for Thursday is a motion picture that has been hailed both in this country and abroad as one of the outstanding film productions of the year—"Peter the Great."

Though the picture has an historical background, being the story of Russia's rise under Peter, the shipyard laborer who became a King, the main theme concerns the flaming romance of the Czar with the pretty daughter of the regiment, Catherine. Here are scenes of love-making and revelry, of scandal and intrigue, which have seldom been approached in any motion picture before. The spectator cannot help, it is said, being swept away by the gusto and vividness with which the actors and actresses play their roles. New York went wild over "Peter the Great." Booked for only a single week, it was held on Broadway almost indefinitely before the audiences were satisfied.

THE CAPITOL

Ten of Hollywood's most promising starlets will be seen as the French "jockies" in the production of "Daughters of the Risk" soon to be seen at the Capitol Theatre.

In Hollywood interest centers about the promising "future greats" who make up the colony housed at the Studio Club. It is probable that not fewer than fifty per cent of the famous women players on the screen today are graduates of this haven for the screen's ambitious working girls.

The "already arrived" players who make up the big cast of the picture include Gaston Glass, Ruth Clifford, Stuart Holmes, Miriam Cooper, Ethel Shannon, Truly Shattuck and Viola Vale.

ONE-PIECE

STREET FROCK

The smartest frock for street and for day wear continue to be of black satin or alpaca with white collars and cuffs.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bowers

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Woodland, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Smith, J. L. Easten and Chas. Riley were Hazelton visitors Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Homswork and two sons of Forsyth, Mont., arrived here Saturday for a short visit with friends after which Mrs. Homswork will return to their home in Montana and her husband.

GENEVIEVE

Maid of my love, sweet Genevieve, In beauty's light you glide along, Your eye is like the star of eve, And sweet your voice as seraph's song. Yet not your heavenly beauty grieves This heart with passion soft to glow, Within your soul a voice there lives, It bids you hear the tale of woe. When sinking low the sufferer wan Beholds no hand outstretch'd to save, Far as the bosom of the swan That rises graceful o'er the wave, I've seen your breast with pity heave, And therefore love I you, sweet Genevieve. —Samuel Taylor Coleridge

Kiddies' Evening Story

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

Sociable Solitary Wasp

"Of course," said a little wasp, known as Mr. Solitary Wasp, "I do not know the habits of all Solitary Wasps."

"There are many in the family. There are cousins and aunts and uncles and grandfathers and grandmothers and second cousins and third cousins and first cousins once removed."

"I don't know where they're moved to, or myself to, or why."

His Wife Goes Marketing

"I don't understand all about cousins and relatives. I can't be supposed to know all their ways. There are too many."

"No one can keep track of every one in some way distantly connected with you."

"You don't know if they will all like school or if some do and some don't."

"You don't know if some like honey and if some do not. You can't tell about them all."

"But I know that we aren't solitary. Solitary means to be alone."

"We nest near together. We nest along the ground and we feed our little larvae children each day."

"Most solitary wasps, I have been told, don't do that."

"But here we're called solitary and we're all together. Foolish, I say, to name us that."

"Then there is a cousin of mine—I know about him. He guards the nest while his wife goes a-marketing."

"She thinks she can pick out the best things to eat for the children, and so she does this."

"But he is always on hand to guard the nest and look after the young."

"If he were really solitary he would be roaming off by himself."

"We may have our own home nests, but we so often group our nests together that really I don't think we should have this name."

"What I will do much later in life, I cannot tell. But I can't help thinking my name is a little curious."

"Why, only the other day I helped some friends of mine over a meadow beyond I helped them with their marketing."

"That wasn't so solitary of me. I would call myself solitary if I went way off into the world all by myself and never bothered to speak to anyone."

"I would like to know why we can't have some other name, too. But I will not worry too much about it."

"Life is sweet with insects to crush and eat and flowers to sip. Flowers have such sweet honey. Oh no, I shall not worry."

"Only here I am with my neighbors. Perhaps great and wise people may tell me more than I know about myself. They will study me."

"But here I am and neighbors around me and there are people who have watched me and who have seen that this is so."

"Perhaps the social wasps are more social. But still that doesn't help me with my name."

"Oh well, as I said before, I will not let it worry me. I will enjoy the good things of the world without fretting and fussing."

"Ah, there goes Mrs. Wasp. Flowers have such a-marketing and Sweet Honey. I know is watching over the home nest."

"They're a nice couple, well matched, and they get along so well and seem to be so happy."

"But I must be having a meal myself. I really feel the pangs of hunger getting at my little wasp stomach. If that is what you would call it."

"You can't expect me to know the important names of everything."

"That would be too much to expect of me. Buzz, buzz, isn't that so?"

Three-Piece Outfit

This very effective three-piece outfit copies the most attractive features of the peasant costume and combines them with the best line of Paris.

The gown is a simple straight-line affair with a low waistline and a pleated skirt. The long coat is much more elaborate. The pleats are held in at the waistline and hemline by bands of embroidery which keep the lines very straight. The embroidery is repeated on the shoulder, applied peasant style.

A collar of white rabbit fur softens the neckline and adds the bit of protection that even a summer coat should afford. The material is white crepe de chine and the embroidery is in shades of blue and orange.

FRINGE

Narrow fringes of monkey or goat fur or even bands finished edge of coats and skirts.

Cemetery Lots

A difference is usually made in cemetery lots in which burials have been made, and those in which burials have not been made. Cemetery lots, though real estate, are generally exempted from taxation. The purpose of this exemption is chiefly to secure burial places from sale for nonpayment of taxes. In the majority of states a burial lot in which burials have been made cannot be seized or sold for debts of the owner. If an owner executes a mortgage upon it, the transaction is usually held void on grounds of public policy. However, cemetery lots in which burials have not been made may be bought and sold subject to the laws of ordinary real estate transactions, provided no special regulations of the community or state alter the general rule.

At The Movies

THE ELTINGE
The feature attraction at the Eltinge theatre for Thursday is a motion picture that has been hailed both in this country and abroad as one of the outstanding film productions of the year—"Peter the Great."

Though the picture has an historical background, being the story of Russia's rise under Peter, the shipyard laborer who became a King, the main theme concerns the flaming romance of the czar with the pretty daughter of the regiment, Catherine. Here are scenes of love-making and revelry, of scandal and intrigue, which have seldom been approached in any motion picture before. The spectator cannot help, it is said, being swept away by the gusto and vividness with which the actors and actresses play their roles. New York went wild over "Peter the Great." Booked for only a single week, it was held on Broadway almost indefinitely before the audiences were satisfied.

THE CAPITOL
Ten of Hollywood's most promising starlets will be seen at the French jockies in Gansner's production of "Daughters of the Kish" soon to be seen at the Capitol Theatre.

In Hollywood interest centers about the promising "future greats" who make up the colony housed at the Studio Club. It is probable that not fewer than fifty per cent of the famous women players on the screen today are graduates of this haven for the screen's ambitious working girls.

The "already arrived" players who make up the big cast of the picture include Gaston Glass, Ruth Clifford, Stuart Holmes, Miriam Cooper, Ethel Shannon, Truly Shattuck and Viola Vale.

ONE-PIECE
The one-piece flannel dress with a shoulder cape and a few buttons on a white collar and leather belt for trimming is a standby in any wardrobe.

STREET FROCKS
The smartest frocks for street and for day wear continue to be of black satin or alpaca with white collars and cuffs.

Kiddies' Evening Story

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

Sociable Solitary Wasp
"Of course," said a little wasp, known as Mr. Solitary Wasp, "I do not know the habits of all Solitary Wasps."

"There are many in the family. There are cousins and aunts and uncles and grandfathers and grandmothers and second cousins and third cousins and first cousins once removed—though I don't know where they removed themselves to, or why."

"I don't understand all about cousins and relatives. I can't be supposed to know all their ways. There are too many."

"No one can keep track of every one in some way distantly connected with you."

"You don't know if they will all like school or if some do and some don't."

"You don't know if some like honey and if some do not. You can't tell about them all."

"But I know that we aren't solitary. Solitary means to be alone."

"We nest near together. We nest along the ground and we feed our little larvae children each day."

"Most solitary wasps, I have been told, do not do that."

"But here we're called solitary and we're all together. Foolish, I say, to name us that."

"Then there is a cousin of mine—I know about him. He guards the nest while his wife goes a-marketing."

"She thinks she can pick out the best things to eat for the children, and so she does this."

"But he is always on hand to guard the nest and look after the young."

"If he were really solitary he would be roaming off by himself."

"We may have our own home nests, but we so often group our nests together that really I don't think we should have this name."

"What I will do much later in life, I cannot tell. But I can't help thinking my name is a little curious."

"Why, only the other day I helped some friends of mine over a meadow beyond. I helped them with their marketing."

"That wasn't so solitary of me. I would call myself solitary if I went way off into the world all by myself and never bothered to speak to anyone."

"I would like to know why we can't have some other name, too. But I will not worry too much about it."

"Life is sweet with insects to crush and eat and flowers to sip. Flowers have such sweet honey. Oh no, I shall not worry."

"Only here I am with my neighbors. Perhaps great and wise people may tell me more than I know about myself. They will study me."

"But here I am and neighbors around me and there are people who have seen that this is so."

"Perhaps the social wasps are more social. But still that doesn't help me with my name."

"Oh well, as I said before, I will not let it worry me. I will enjoy the good things of the world without fretting and fussing."

"Ah, there goes Mrs. Wasp. Flowers have such sweet honey. Sweet Honey."

"I know is watching over the home nest."

"They're a nice couple, well matched, and they get along so well and seem to be so happy."

"But I must be having a meal myself. I really feel the pangs of hunger getting at my little wasp stomach, if that is what you would call it."

"You can't expect me to know the important names of everything. That would be too much to expect of me, buzz, buzz, isn't that so?"

Three-Piece Outfit

This very effective three-piece outfit copies the most attractive features of the peasant costume and combines them with the best lines of Paris.

The gown is a simple straight-line affair with a low waistline and a pleated skirt. The long coat is much more elaborate. The pleats are held in at the waistline and hemline by bands of embroidery which keep the lines very straight. The embroidery is repeated on the shoulders, applied peasant style.

A collar of white rabbit fur softens the neckline and adds the bit of protection that even a summer coat should afford. The material is white crepe de chine and the embroidery is in shades of blue and orange.

FRINGE
Narrow fringes of monkey or goat fur or even beads finished edges of coats and skirts.

REP COATS
A coat of light rose-colored rep is trimmed with finely pleated bands of crepe ribbon.

Cemetery Lots
A difference is usually made in cemetery lots in which burials have been made and those in which burials have not been made. Cemetery lots, though real estate, are generally exempted from taxation. The purpose of this exemption is chiefly to secure burial places from sale for nonpayment of taxes. In the majority of states a burial lot in which burials have been made cannot be seized or sold for debts of the owner. If an owner executes a mortgage upon it, the transaction is usually held void on grounds of public policy. However, cemetery lots in which burials have not been made may be bought and sold subject to the laws of ordinary real estate transactions, provided no special regulations of the community or state after the general rule.

No Extradition for Jim Barnes

By JOHN SEFTON

As the car doors were closing a man, hatless, breathless and disheveled, dashed down the platform and forcibly wedged them open. Following him came a second, wearing a plain uniform and a peaked cap. He caught the first man at the doors and strove to drag him backward. The train was already moving.

"Stop him!" yelled the pursuer. "He is an escaped—"

But the first man had gained the car, and clung to a strap, while the second, seeing that he could not drag back the fugitive, followed him.

"Say, what's the trouble?" demanded the conductor, coming through the throng of excited passengers. "You fellows might have been killed. Ain't you got no better sense than to do a thing like that?"

The first man had not yet recovered his breath, but the second gasped:

"I am an attendant from the insane asylum, and this man is an escaped lunatic. He had been there nine years—"

"Ten, you cur!" snapped the other, glaring at him.

"He was a trusty," said the pursuer bitterly. "He ran away this morning. As soon as we had found he had gone I was sent after him—and now I've got him."

"You have, have you!" sneered the other. "Well, you'll find out your mistake, I reckon. I may be a lunatic in New York, but I am sane in Jersey until the courts decide to be wise, and don't you forget it."

"That's right!" "That's the boy!" "You're safe now!" ejaculated a score of passengers.

"I know," answered the fugitive. "I'm Jim Barnes, a sane man, and I'm not going back to New York with you."

Meanwhile the train, after one or two stops, which added to the crowd and to the excitement, also was plowing its way into Hoboken station. As it slowed to a standstill the two men stepped off and stood glaring at each other, while the crowd gathered once more around them.

"Now, Jim," said the man in the cap, touching the other on the arm. "You come home like a good boy. There's stuffed turkey for supper stuffed with creamed oysters."

"I say I'm sane," yelled the other to the crowd in exasperation. "Ten years they had me in that asylum, because my family wanted my property. I've never been insane for a moment. Do I look insane? Do I act insane? And I'm going to bring suit right away to secure my rights and punish the conspirators."

"Oo-leave that fellow alone!" exclaimed a portly gentleman. "I'll see that justice is done. Mr. Barnes. Here is my card, and I shall be pleased to give evidence in your favor at any time."

"I wish you'd make him give me my watch," said Barnes, pointing to the gold chain which hung across the attendant's coat. "I left it behind me, and I guess he picked it up. I want to pawn it. Those scoundrels got all my money."

"He's lying," declared the attendant. "That is my watch, and if any man touches it or lays a finger on me I'll have him arrested. And let me tell you," he continued, addressing the portly gentleman, "you'll be sorry for your part in this work."

"That's all right," jeered the portly man. "I'm a lawyer, and I don't think I'm altogether without influence in this community." He addressed the crowd again. "We can't touch that fellow's watch without proof that it was stolen," he said, but no doubt you will be glad to assist our friend to get shelter until something can be done for him."

He took off his hat, drew a fat wallet from his pocket, and extracted a twenty-dollar bill from it, placing it in the hat. "This is going to be the sweetener," he said.

Bills and silver coin rolled into the hat from the sympathizing crowd that now filled the entire platform. Up and down went the portly gentleman with his hat, and he did not cease until it was nearly as full. Then he counted the amount of his collection.

"One hundred and nineteen dollars, ten cents," he announced. "I guess that will give our friend here a more hopeful view of life."

"I couldn't take it," faltered the fugitive.

"Take it!" exclaimed the portly gentleman. "Of course you'll take it, or I'll know the reason why. Come, now, put this into your pocket or I'll ram it down your throat."

The fugitive accepted the money with a shamed air, and the portly gentleman turned upon the attendant.

"Come now, get out of here," he said, "and make no further trouble!"

The portly gentleman conducted his companion round several blocks and led him to the Tunnel station again, this time upon the opposite side. Upon this platform the asylum attendant was waiting.

"You will be able to do a great deal of harm. You will be able to even carry sickness away, but you can bring sickness."

So, though your work is the opposite of the work which doctors do, it is very clever.

"At least I think it is very clever. The young gentlemen in the Mosquito family will not be able to bite."

"But the ladies will make up for this shortcoming."

"Others may not call us ladies. They may think our behavior is anything but ladylike. For we go where we are not invited and not wanted."

"We certainly outstay our welcome, as we are never welcome in the first place."

"So we outstay our welcome from the very moment we arrive. But do not let that bother you!"

"Stay just the same!"

"Be careful not to be caught. Be careful to dodge people's hands. Be quick, but enjoy yourselves."

"You are now living in the marsh, which is your childhood home. It is a nice, comfortable home."

"But later you will be grown up and will go forth to enjoy the world."

"You will enjoy the people of the world. It is not their society which will interest you."

"You will not care about their conversation. You will not mind whether they are bright or dull. You will not care whether they do well in their lessons or not."

"You will not be fussy as to their own table manners or their party manners or their everyday manners."

"You will not care whether they can swim or play games, well or whether they are popular with their friends."

"You will not care whether they talk about each other or whether they are loyal."

"You will not care whether they tattle-tale or whether they don't."

"You will not care if they're grouchy, or are mean to children and who make unkind speeches, or who act in a patronizing and condescending fashion toward them. Those are big words, but I fancy you will understand them—if not now, later on."

"You live in the hollow parts of trees and in cellars when the winter comes, so you will be able to do some damage in the late spring."

You will be able to suck delicious meals from people. You will never be asked again, for you will never be asked in the first place.

UNVEIL STATUE

ON SEPT. 11

Minot, N. D., July 16.—Thursday, September 11 will show the date for the formal unveiling and dedication of the Theodore Roosevelt Equestrian statue in Riverside park, at a meeting of the statue committee held on Saturday afternoon.

Further details of an elaborate program which it is proposed to present at that time will be announced as they are consummated. The presentation of an appropriate program in connection with the unveiling is being considered, and the assistance of A. G. Arnold of the North Dakota Agricultural college has been enlisted in this endeavor. Mr. Arnold has successfully staged several pageants.

The date set for the dedication, it is pointed out, will conveniently work in with the fall festival to be held in this city on September 11, 12 and 13. The Minot Association of Commerce and the Northwest Fair will cooperate in presenting the festival.

No Extradition for Jim Barnes

By JOHN SEFTON

As the car doors were closing a man, hatless, breathless and disheveled, dashed down the platform and forcibly wedged them open. Following him came a second, wearing a plain uniform and a peaked cap. He caught the first man at the doors and strove to drag him backward. The train was already moving.

"Stop him!" yelled the pursuer. "He is an escaped—"

But the first man had gained the car, and clung to a strap, while the second, seeing that he could not drag back the fugitive, followed him.

"Say, what's the trouble?" demanded the conductor, coming through the throng of excited passengers. "You fellows might have been killed. Ain't you got no better sense than to do a thing like that?"

The first man had not yet recovered his breath, but the second gasped:

"I am an attendant from the insane asylum, and this man is an escaped lunatic. He had been there nine years—"

"Ten, you cur!" snapped the other, glaring at him.

"He was a trusty," said the pursuer bitterly. "He ran away this morning. As soon as we had found he had gone I was sent after him—and now I've got him."

"You have, have you?" sneered the other. "Well, you'll find out your mistake, McCormick. I may be a lunatic in New York, but I am sane in Jersey until the courts decide to be wise, and don't you forget it."

"That's right!" "That's the boy!" "You're safe now!" ejaculated a score of passengers.

"I know," answered the fugitive. "Jim Jim Barnes, a sane man and I'm going back to New York with you."

Meanwhile the train, after one or two stops, which added to the crowd and to the excitement also, was plowing its way into Hoboken station. As it slowed to a standstill the men stepped off, and stood glaring at each other, while the crowd gathered once more around them.

"Now, Jim," said the man in the cap, touching the other on the arm, "you come home like a good boy. There's stuffed turkey for supper stuffed with creamed oysters."

"I say I'm sane," yelled the other to the crowd in exasperation. "Ten years they had me in that asylum, because my family wanted my money. I've never been insane for a moment. Do I look insane? Do I act insane? And I'm going to bring suit right away to secure my rights and punish the conspirators."

"You leave that fellow alone!" exclaimed a Seventh street man. "I'll see that justice is done, Mr. Barnes. Here is my card, and I shall be pleased to give evidence in your favor at any time."

"I wish you'd make him give me my watch," said Barnes, pointing to the gold chain which hung across the attendant's coat. "I left it behind me, and I guess he picked it up. I want to pawn it. Those scoundrels got all my money."

"He's lying," declared the attendant. "That is my watch, and if any man touches it or lays a finger on me I'll have him arrested. And let me tell you," he continued, addressing the portly gentleman, "you'll be sorry for your part in this work."

"That's all right," jeered the portly man. "I'm a lawyer, and I don't think I'm altogether without influence in this community." He addressed the crowd again. The portly gentleman conducted his companion round several blocks and led him to the Tunnel station again, this time upon the opposite side. Upon this platform the asylum attendant was waiting.

"I thought you guys were never coming," he growled.

"Ninety-nine dollars," said the portly gentleman, withdrawing his own bill from the lot. "That's thirty-three each. Not bad for a morning's work. But say! It's worth it, thinking out these new games every day."

"You will not care whether they can swim or play games well or whether they are popular with their friends."

"You will not care whether they talk about each other or whether they are loyal."

"You will not care whether they tattle-tale or whether they don't. You will not care if they're grownups who are mean to children and who make unkind speeches, or who act in a patronizing and condescending fashion toward them. Those are big words, but I fancy you will understand them if not now, later on."

"You live in the hollow parts of trees and in cellars when the winter comes, so you will be able to do some damage in the late spring."

"You will be able to suck delicious meals from people. You will never be asked again, for you will never be asked in the first place."

"But that need not bother you. No mosquito will ever receive an invitation to come to supper from a human, and no mosquito has had such an invitation."

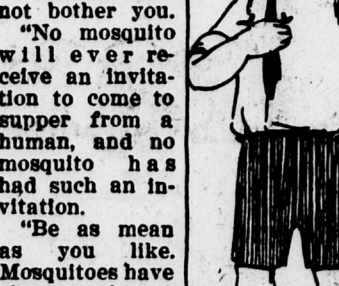

"Be as mean as you like. Mosquitoes have always been mean, and they always will be mean."

"Annoy people. Make them mad. Make them angry."

"But don't let them keep you from coming again because they are angry."

These were the lessons Mrs. Mosquito taught, and even if the children weren't listening to her now, she knew that they would follow the mean mosquito ways just as all mosquitoes always did.

UNVEIL STATUE ON SEPT. 11

Minot, N. D., July 16.—Thursday, September 11 was chosen as the date for the formal unveiling and the dedication of the Theodore Roosevelt Equestrian statue in Riverside park, at a meeting of the statue committee held on Saturday afternoon.

Further details of an elaborate program which it is proposed to present at that time will be announced as they are announced. The presentation of an appropriate program in connection with the unveiling is being considered, and the assistance of A. G. Arnold of the North Dakota Agricultural college has been enlisted in this endeavor. Mr. Arnold has successfully staged several pageants.

The date set for the dedication, it is pointed out, will conveniently work in with the fall festival to be held in this city on September 11, 12 and 13. The Minot Association of Commerce and the Northwest Fair will cooperate in presenting the festival.

BRIDGE PAVING PROJECT STILL IS UNSETTLED

Highway Body Confronted With Opinion That Bridge Money Cannot Be Used

OTHER FACTORS IN IT

Bismarck Citizens Continue to Voice Demand for Equality in Road Projects

The State Highway Commission has not settled the question of whether or not a contract will be let for paving the Bismarck-Mandan road from the west end of the Missouri River bridge to a point near the Northern Pacific viaduct east of Mandan. There is, according to Chief Engineer Black, a legal question as to whether state bridge funds can be used in paving this road. Under the proposed plan, Morton county would pay one-sixth of the cost, the federal government half and the remainder would come out of the state bridge fund.

The highway commission may meet tomorrow to consider the matter, the chief engineer said. Attorney-General Shafer said no opinion had been asked of his office as to the legality of the use of the state bridge fund money, but that a couple of years ago an opinion was given from the Attorney-General's office by Assistant Attorney-General Roemstad to the effect that this money could not be used without specific appropriations by the legislature. Under this opinion the present plan of paving will not be carried out.

The question also has been raised by Bismarck citizens, carrying out their announced determination of demanding approaches to the new bridge from the southwest, that if the highway is paved as a part of the bridge project, provisions must also be made for the southwest road reaching to this bluff. This, they believe, would greatly improve the avenues of approach to the bridge. By extending the lateral road, which would connect up with the St. Anthony and Ft. Yates road, as a part of the bridge project, the utility of the bridge would be increased and the entire matter solved with the least possible expense to local taxpayers, in the belief of local men. It is probable that a mass meeting of business men of Bismarck will be called soon to thresh out the whole road problem.

The local citizens are joined with Ft. Yates and other citizens between Bismarck and that place in demanding incorporation of the so-called river road as a part of the state federal highway system. They point out that the recent state highway map of the highway commission omits this road, which has been for forty years a main artery of traffic, serving a large number of people desiring a direct route to Bismarck and Mandan. Certain interests in Mandan, it is charged, seek to direct this traffic over a route to west via experimental station and reform school.

COURT TO HEAR BONDING CASE

Will Review Action of the Secretary of State

The supreme court will grant an early hearing in the matter in which a review is asked of the action of the Secretary of State in declining to file petitions for a vote on a constitutional amendment providing for a $5,000,000 bond issue to aid in reimbursing depositors of closed banks and rewriting the Guaranty Fund laws, according to announcement of the supreme court. The date of the hearing is July 22nd, at 10 a. m.

The petition filed with the supreme court, cited the constitutional provision saying actions of the Secretary of State in such matters should be reviewed by the court.

SHAHER TALKS ON INDUSTRIES

Addresses Rotary Club at Its Luncheon Today

The Rotary Club at its luncheon this noon had the pleasure of hearing Attorney General George Shafer talk on "Certain Phases of State Owned Industries". He took up the position of the taxpayer and compared him to a stockholder in a corporation, pointed out the principal similarities, but stated that the chief distinction between a North Dakota taxpayer and a stockholder in a corporation lay in the fact that the taxpayer is interested in state owned industries in practical perpetuity. He traced the state ownership of private enterprises from House Bill 44 down to the present time, discussing briefly the fields of industry entered by our state, and concluded with a statement of what state ownership had cost to date and the inevitable tax burden it to come unless through a miracle our endeavors reach the apparently unattainable goal of a profit.

Upon the occasion of J. L. Bell's birthday, Burt Finney after a fervent oration granted Mr. Bell the questionable privilege of editing the Rotarian Organ, the "Buffalo Horn" for one week, but hemmed his grant with so many restrictions that it is feared the privilege is valueless. The guests were C. A. Bonham,

HEAT WAVE IN STATE BROKEN DURING NIGHT

No Weather Stations Reporting Here, However, Tell of Rain in Last Day

CROP CONDITIONS

Although a cool breeze arising during the night carried the mercury down to a record temperature for the season here, no rain was reported from any of the state weather stations during the 24-hour period ending at 7 a. m. today. Some weather stations reported "cloudy" at 7 a. m. today, but in most parts of the state it was clear and warm. The mercury took its nearest jump to 100 yesterday, reaching 96 at Fessenden and Lisbon, and it was above 90 at Bismarck, Ellendale, Jamestown, Napoleon and Williston. The highest mark recorded in Bismarck was 91.

The weather bureau predicts about the same weather for tonight, except that it is expected to be somewhat cooler. The North Dakota Corn and Wheat Region Summary, issued today by the weather bureau for the past week, reports favorable crop weather although some sections need rain. The report is as follows: Favorable weather for all crops prevails throughout the state, although some sections need rain. Spring wheat is mostly headed or heading and no reports of black stem rust have been received. Spring rye is ripening and some is nearly ready to harvest. Barley, oats and speltz are heading and a good to excellent crop is expected. Corn is somewhat backward but generally clean. Potatoes are good to excellent and mostly in blossom. Flax is excellent; much in boll stage. Haying is well advanced and pastures, ranges and livestock are excellent.

The heat wave was further broken by a shower which fell in Bismarck this afternoon.

VERDICT IS UPHOLD

Columbus, O., July 16.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today affirmed the district court of southern Michigan in granting John Hansell and wife of Grand Rapids, Michigan, a verdict of $20,000 against Benjamin Purnell, "King of the House of David."

"The Red Star," New Book, Deals With No. Dakota

"The Red Star," a story of North Dakota, a book now ready for publication, by the Stratford company, was written by Irene Lenhart, whose husband, F. A. Lenhart, is the brother of Mayor A. P. Lenhart. Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Lenhart live in Provo, Utah.

Reviews of the book describe it as "told in colorful language and embracing a realistic plot." The story relates the history of Jane, a southern girl, last of an old family, who learns at the death of her father that her home is mortgaged and she is penniless. She refuses a home with her friends, for she wishes to be independent, and becomes a teacher for a North Dakota country school.

In the home where she stays, she meets Steven Fjarr, whose quaint saying and kind ways win her heart. They are married and go to live on a prairie homestead, where they fight fire, drought and all kinds of Steven Fjarr is an idealist. When the Nonpartisan League is organized, he sees in it a Utopia for the farmers and joins in the work. With the money he receives from the League he is able to provide the kind of a home he always wished for his family.

Jane becomes disappointed in the League and, upon investigation, declares it is operated dishonestly. Steven supports the League, and the disagreements between husband and wife finally cause their separation. Their trials and hardships, and their final reunion, make this story one of unusual appeal and interest.

TAX APPEAL BOARD FORMED

Former North Dakotan Is Named Chairman

Washington, July 16.—Machinery created by the new tax law for adjustment of tax claims was formally set in motion today with the formation of the board of tax appeals.

The 12 members already named elected Charles D. Hamel of North Dakota as chairman and proceeded to work out rules of procedure governing the disposition of claims which in the past have aggregated as high as a half-billion dollars a year.

Present plans contemplate division of the board into committees of three, each committee to be assigned headquarters in some city central to the community from which its cases come. Taxpayers thus will be spared the necessity of making trips to Washington to handle their claims.

Hamel's home formerly was in Grafton but he has been in Washington several years.
